Chapter 1-Introduction 14

Causes of fitnah, disagreement, and dispute 16

1. Departing from holding onto the Book and the Sunnah according to the understanding of the Salaf of the ummah, relying on whims, and on the statements of men 16

2. Inability to distinguish the Sunnah from bid‘ah brought by some small ones 18

3. Transgression 23

Chapter 2-Asl ad-Din (the Foundation of the Din) 30

What is asl ad-Din? 30

What is the meaning of “affirming belief in Allah?” 32

What is the meaning of “to worship Him (subhanahu) alone, to leave the worship of others, and to have bara’ah from those who commit shirk with Him (subhanahu)?” 34

An [important] issue 34

Why is ignorance not considered in relation to asl ad-Din from a sane man or a sane woman? 35

A question: what nullifies asl ad-Din? 37

The proofs on the lack of excuse of ignorance in relation to shirk and which nullifies asl ad-Din 40
When we judge a specific individual with kufr and shirk, what does that entail? 43

We conclude with two issues 44

Chapter 3- Takfir al-Mushrikin 48

Statements of the people of knowledge regards to the kufr of the one who does not make takfir of the kafir 48

What is the position of takfir in the Din? 50

The difference between the ignorance of Shari'ah rites and the ignorance in asl ad-Din 55

What is the manat, ‘illah, or sabab of kufr for the one who refrains from takfir al-mushrikin? 64

Chapter 4- Takfir al-Mushrikin (Part 2) 67

Is all of takfir al-mushrikin upon one or multiple levels? 67

The varying levels of the mutawaqqifin 69

The first level 72

The second level 73

The third level 74

The fourth level 87

Which level does the mutawaqqif of the grave worshipers fall into? 88

Chapter 5- At-Taifah al-Mumtani'ah 91

A brief introduction 91

What is at-taifah al-mumtani'ah? 93
What is the ruling of "at-taifah al-mumtani‘ab"? 94

The ruling of fighting "at-taifah al-mumtani‘ab" 96

The disagreement that occurred between the scholars of the companions, Abu Bakr and ‘Umar, regarding takfīr of "at-taifah al-mumtani‘ab" 98

The disagreement which occurred between the scholars 100

Is the one who disagrees in the kufr of "at-taifah al-mumtani‘ab" an innovator or a Sunni? 103

An important clarification 106

Chapter 6-Darul-Kufr and Hijrah 108

The meaning of dar, the categorization of the world into two types of lands, and the legal definition of dar 109

The definition of darul-Islam and darul-kufr 111

The reason behind ruling a land with Islam or kufr 112

The ruling on leaving hijrah 123

The various conditions in regards to the inhabitants of darul-kufr 129
Shaykh al-Mujaddid Muhammad ibn ‘Abdil-Wahhab said:

O my brothers! Allah Allah! Hold onto the foundation of your din; its beginning, its end, its core, and its head: the testimony that la ilaha illallah. Learn its meaning, love it, love its people, and make them your brothers, even if they are far away. Disbelieve in the tawaghit, oppose and hate them, and whoever loves them, or defends them, or does not make takfir of them, or says that nothing is upon them in relation to them, or that “Allah has not obligated me anything with regards to them.” Verily, whoever said that has fabricated a lie against Allah. Verily, Allah has obligated to disbelieve in them and to disassociate from them, even if they were your brothers and children. So Allah Allah! Hold steadfast upon that so that perhaps you may meet your Lord not having committed any shirk with Him. O Allah, take us as Muslimin and join us with the righteous.

(Majmu’ Rasail at-Tawhid wal-Iman, v. 1, p. 368)
Indeed, all praise belongs to Allah. We praise Him, seek His aid and seek His forgiveness. We seek refuge with Allah from the evils of ourselves and from the evils of our actions. Whomsoever Allah guides, none can misguide him. And whomsoever Allah leaves to stray, none can guide him. I bear witness that there is nothing worthy of worship except Allah, alone with no partner. And I bear witness that Muhammad is His slave and His messenger. May Allah send salah and salam upon him, his family, his companions, and all those who sincerely follow him. As for what follows…

It is not hidden from any Muslim the continuous attacks from the enemies of Allah aimed at the pure ‘aqidah (creed) of Islam in order to sow discord and disunity. And why would they not? For it was the pure ‘aqidah and the clinging to the jama‘ah that was a cause for Allah to send down His aid and support to the fledgling Islamic state in Madinah over 1,400 years ago, allowing it to expand to the outposts of Europe, tearing down along its way the oppressive empires of Rome and Persia.

While the enemies of Allah openly spend billions to distort the ‘aqidah in clear daylight,¹ a hidden enemy inspired by ¹ There are numerous examples and documentary evidences to prove this, however, this is not the place to cite them.

Shaytan sought to infiltrate the jama'ah under the cover of darkness in order to spread corruption from within. And when the Islamic State received that aforementioned aid and support from Allah (‘azza wa jall) - by sticking to the unaltered ‘aqidah and the call for the re-establishment of the jama'ah - and conquered large swathes of territory in both Iraq and Sham in a short span of three months, one particular group saw an opportunity to bare its hidden fangs.

The extremist group or entity, popularly and loosely known as the Hazimiyyah, then began to spread its venom under the shade and protection of the Islamic State. To safeguard the jama'ah and to cut the spread of this disease, the scholars and students of knowledge of the Islamic State sought to clarify the misconceptions of those who either ignorantly or intentionally followed along the tracks of the extremists. What started as debates and explanations - with many coming back to the truth, and to Allah belongs all praise - turned into imprisonments and executions.

The matter continued like this until the Islamic State was forced to release multiple letters clarifying its manhaj (methodology); it finalized in the official release of an audio series entitled Silsilah 'Ilmiyyah fi Bayan Masail Manhajiyah, of which this book is a translation of. It addressed a multitude of issues that became the center of heated debates that the ignorant and extremists attached themselves to.

2 And which the kafir coalition, led by “the most powerful state in history,” has taken over 4 years to occupy, and which it still has not fully achieved. Reflect, akhi fillah, on this matter.

In the first part it mentions why a foregone bayan was cancelled and the reason behind the series: to unite the word and hearts of the muwahhidin, to re-focus the attention upon the aggression of the kuffar and the defending of Islam and its people. It continues to give nasibah (advice) to the people of tawhid and warns from dispute, giving the reasons why dispute occurs. It mentions the command and order to stick to the jama‘ab and commends its value; all backed by ayat, ahadith, and sayings of the Salaf.

It is worth mentioning that although Ahmad ibn ‘Umar al-Hazimi al-mubtadi’ (the innovator), one who shares a majority of the load of fitnah that spread amongst the mujahid muwahhidin, is not named directly,³ he is indirectly made mention of throughout the first part and with the words,

So how could you leave, my mujahid brother, the people of the frontlines from the scholars that went forth to the land of jihad and Islam? How could you leave this pure fountain and then go take your din from the one who remains [sitting] between the laps

of the tawaghit in the Arabian Peninsula and elsewhere? He never made takfir of them nor rebuked them, mixing with their soldiers, security forces, and intelligence agents without explaining to them what they have committed of nullifiers [of Islam]. Do not be seduced, my brother, by the taghut’s imprisonment of one of them, as it might be a brightening or an advertisement of him and his sayings, or sending him [to be] among the brothers inside the prisons to cause anxiety and misconceptions between them. The opportunity was there for them, if they were people of truth and honesty, to go forth to the lands of jihad and make bijrah towards darul-Islam.

In the second part the issue of asl ad-Din is addressed. Its meaning is outlined clearly with support of the leading scholars of Ahlus-Sunnah. It makes clear that there is no excuse of ignorance in matters that are asl ad-Din, again, backed by proofs and the statements of the scholars.

In the third and fourth parts the issue of takfir al-mushrikin is given much attention and clarification, as well as explaining the truth of the matter that takfir is not asl ad-Din but a hukm shar‘i. Once more, all backed by substantial proofs upon the understanding of our Salaf.
In the fifth part the critical and widely unspoken issue of at-taifah al-mumtani‘ah is dealt with, along with the difference of opinion between the scholars in relation to it. To say it is a subject which is of the utmost importance to understand in our realities today would be an understatement.

In the sixth and final part the issue of darul-kufr, its types, and the ruling of its inhabitants are discussed; as well as the issue of hijrah and the rulings that revolve around it. This matter and the misconceptions within it have been officially addressed before, but not in the publically detailed mannered way in which it is undertaken here. Previously, Shaykh al-‘Adnani (rahimahullah) and the Islamic State had disassociated from “a misconception that always has been raised in this campaign, the saying that the asl of people is kufr, which is from the bida’ of the Khawarij of our time. The [Islamic] State is innocent from this saying, and in its ‘aqidah and manhaj, and what it believes in before Allah is that Ahlus-Sunnah in Iraq and Sham in general are Muslim. We do not declare the kufr of anyone except whom his apostasy is proven to us by explicit shar‘i evidence and explicit evidence that it occurred. And whomever we find from the soldiers of the [Islamic] State saying this bid‘ab we teach, educate, and explain to him, and if he doesn’t refrain we berate him, and if he doesn’t refrain we expel him from our ranks and disown him. And we have done this many times with the ansar and muhajirin.”

In order for its adaptation to fit and flow smoothly into the style of a book that is read, instead of a lecture series that is listened to, very minor adjustments and changes have went into this translation from the original. Examples of that are restricted to changing “halaqah” to “chapter,” “silsilah” to “book,” deleting the opening of each halaqah with the exception of the first, and deleting the ending of each halaqah with the exception of the last. We hope to be excused for that.

References to the ayat of the Quran, found in the main body of the original transcripts published in an-Naba, were placed as footnotes herein. The other footnotes are largely taken from the same transcripts, unless explicitly stated otherwise. In some of the first and in most of the final two parts released together, references were not provided, but we were able, and all praise belongs to Allah, to locate the majority of them.

As you read you will notice the plurality of references, citations, and quotes from the scholars of Ahlus-Sunnah, which is the embodiment of the frequently said, but lost on many, principle: based upon the understanding of the Salaf as-Salih. Shaykh ash-Shanqiti (rahimahullah) explains,

We are those who follow and do not innovate new matters in the Din. We point towards the transmitted knowledge from the past, as was stated by Imam Malik (rahimahullah), “It is an obligation upon every student of knowledge to be upon tranquility and steadfastness, and upon the narrations of those who have passed before him.” Therefore, it is a requirement for him to possess this transmitted knowledge from the past.\(^5\)

Unlike many who do not live up to that honored phrase and principle of Ahlus-Sunnah wal-Jama‘ah, the Islamic State are followers and not innovators; and this book will testify to that.

In closing, we ask Allah that this be a means of guidance for everyone who seeks the truth out of sincerity to hold fast to it. And Allah knows best. May Allah send salah and salam upon our teacher and guide, Muhammad, his family, and his companions. We end with saying that all praise belongs to Allah, the Lord of creation.

Chapter 1

Introduction

All praise belongs to Allah, the Lord of creation. The final outcome is for the muttaqin and there is no aggression except against the dbalimin (the oppressors). I bear witness that there is nothing worthy of worship except Allah, alone with no partners, the rightful and clear King. And I bear witness that Muhammad is His slave and messenger, the imam of the first and last. As for what follows...

The following is a book explaining and clarifying some matters of manhaj and ‘aqidah, in which confusion and ambiguity arose amongst some of our sons and brothers from the soldiers of the Islamic State and the remaining Muslimin inside and outside the Khilafah. This was due to the memo issued by the Delegated Committee entitled with the noble ayah - That Those Who Perish Would Perish upon Proof - and the consequent suspension and cancellation of acting according to it because of what what it contained of knowledge-related and manhaj errors, and due to ambiguous statements that could be interpreted in different ways which led to disagreement and dispute.

Thus it was obligatory upon us to not delay the clarification when it was urgently needed and became an absolute necessity, in order to unite the word of the State, to bring the hearts of its soldiers upon the truth, free them to confront the aggression of the people of kufr, and defend the essence of Islam and its sacred rites.

Allah (ta’ala) warned us against disagreement and dispute with a severe and stern warning, as He (ta’ala) said, “And obey Allah and His Messenger, and do not dispute and [thus] lose courage and [then] your strength would depart; and be patient. Indeed, Allah is with the patient.” At the same time, He ordered us to stick with the jama‘ah and exalted its value. The Prophet (sallallahu ‘alayhi wa sallam) said, “Stick with the jama‘ah,” and the Prophet (sallallahu ‘alayhi wa sallam) said, “The hand of Allah is with the jama‘ah,” and the Prophet (sallallahu ‘alayhi wa sallam) said, “I warn you against splitting and disunity, as the Shaytan is with the alone man, and he (i.e., Shaytan) is more distant from two.” And it comes in the hadith that was narrated and declared authentic by at-Tirmidhi, that the Prophet (sallallahu ‘alayhi wa sallam) said, “And I order you with five which Allah commanded me with: hearing and obeying, jihād, hijrah, and the jama‘ah. And whoever abandons the jama‘ah a distance of a hand-span, then he has taken off the noose of Islam from his neck.”
Among the causes of fitnah, disagreement, and dispute are:

1. Departing from holding onto the Book and the Sunnah according to the understanding of the Salaf of the ummah, relying on whims, and on the statements of men.

He (ta’ala) said, “And hold firmly to the rope of Allah all together and do not become divided.”

And He (ta’ala) said, “And how could you disbelieve while to you are being recited the ayat of Allah and among you is His messenger? And whoever holds firmly to Allah has [indeed] been guided to a straight path.”

And the Prophet (sallallahu ‘alayhi wa sallam) said, “I have left with you [two things] that if you cling to, you will never be misguided after me: the Book of Allah and my sunnah.” And in Sahih Muslim it is narrated from Abu Hurayrah (radiyallahu ‘anhu) that the Messenger of Allah (sallallahu ‘alayhi wa sallam) said,

Allah is pleased with three [things] for you, and hates three [things] for you; He is pleased for you that you worship Him and do not associate any [partners] with Him, to hold firmly to the rope of Allah all together and do not become divided, and He hates for you gossip, excessive questioning, and wasting wealth.

And He (sallallahu ‘alayhi wa sallam) used to say when giving a khutbah, “As to what follows: The best speech is the Book of Allah, the best guidance is the guidance of Muhammad (sallallahu ‘alayhi wa sallam), and the worst of issues are innovations.”

Ibn ‘Abbas (radiyallahu ‘anhumā) said, “Allah ordered the believers to be in the jama‘ah and forbade them from dispute and splitting up and informed them that the ones before them perished because of argument and disagreement in the Din of Allah (ta’ala).”

And it was narrated from the noble tabi‘i, ibn Shihab az-Zuhri (rabimahullah), that he said, “Our previous scholars used to say: ‘Clinging to the Sunnah is safety.’”

Imam al-Awza‘i (rabimahullah) said, “Stick to the footsteps (i.e., narrations) of the Salaf even if the people reject you, and beware of the opinions of men, even if they decorate them with [nice and sweet] words; for certainly the matter will become manifest while you will be upon the straight path.”

10 Sunan ad-Darimi, 96.
11 Siyar A’lam an-Nubala, v. 7, p. 120.
Shaykhul-Islam ibn Taymiyyah (rahimahullah) said, “Ahlus-Sunnah wal-Jama‘ah follow the Book and the Sunnah, obey Allah and His messenger, and thus they follow the truth and are merciful to the creation.”

And he (rahimahullah) also said, “Fitan (tribulations) and disunity does not occur except by abandoning the command of Allah, and Allah (ta’ala) has ordered to stick to the truth, justice, and ordered to be patient. [And thus] fitnah occurs due to leaving the truth or leaving patience.”

2. Inability to distinguish the Sunnah from bid‘ah brought by some small ones who associate themselves to knowledge, while having half knowledge. [They are] those who consider themselves among the leading mujtahid scholars; so you find one of them claiming to be the most guided and thinks that the Sunnah is with him [alone] and that his opponent is a misguided mubtadi’ (innovator), or he may say “kafir,” the results of which lead to disunity and evils only Allah knows fully.

The Sunnah is what Allah and His messenger has ordered, and bid‘ah is what Allah has not legislated in the Din.

He (subhanahu) said, “So ask the people of knowledge if you do not know.”

Al-Bukhari and Muslim narrated from ‘Abdullah ibn ‘Amr ibnil-‘As (radiyallahu ‘anhumā) that he said, “I heard the Messenger of Allah (sallallahu ‘alayhi wa sallam) saying:

‘Allah does not take away knowledge by taking it away from the [hearts of the] people, but He takes it away by the death of the ‘ulama till when none remains, people will take as their leaders ignorant persons who when consulted will give their fatwa without knowledge. So they will go astray and will lead the people astray.”

And from Muhammad ibn Sirin (rahimahullah), who said, “Certainly, this knowledge is din, so look from whom you take your din from.”

From the characteristics of the heads of misguidance (ahlul-bida) is that they propagate their falsehood by using eloquent shar‘i slogans such as “preserving the excellency of tawhid,” “Millah Ibrahim,” “the Pure Tawhid,” and others similar to it, just as the Khawarij said to ‘Ali ibn Abi Talib (radiyallahu ‘anhu), “Legislation is for none but Allah,” and 13 An-Nahl: 43.

14 Sahib Muslim. said, “We do not refer to men in legislation, we want the ruling of Allah.”

These slogans do not pass over the people of knowledge unnoticed, similar to how a fake dinar would not pass over the expert gold inspector. ‘Ali (radiyallahu ‘anhu) understood the meaning of the saying of the Haruriyyah, and their saying: “Legislation is for none but Allah,” did not pass over him as it did on ignorant people, as he (radiyallahu ‘anhu) said,

Legislation is for none but Allah. “So be patient. Indeed, the promise of Allah is the truth. And let them not disquiet you who are not certain [in faith].” Do you know what they say (i.e., what they mean)? They say: “no leadership.” Oh you people, verily nothing will amend you except an amir, [whether] just or wicked.15

And in Sahih Muslim from ‘Ubaydullah ibn Abi Rafi’, the servant of the Messenger of Allah (sallallahu ‘alayhi wa sallam), that when the Haruriyyah rebelled - and he was with ‘Ali ibn Abi Talib (radiyallahu ‘anhu) - they said, “Hukm (ruling) is for none but Allah.” ‘Ali said, “A word of truth, but falsehood is intended by it. The Messenger of Allah (sallallahu ‘alayhi wa sallam) described people whom I see these fit into their description. They say the truth with their tongues yet it does not go beyond this in them - and he pointed to his throat - and [they are] from the most hated creations of Allah to Him.”

An-Nawawi (rahimahullah) said, “His saying: ‘They said, ‘Hukm is for none but Allah,’ ‘Ali said, ‘A word of truth, but falsehood is intended by it,’ meaning, that this saying has a proper root. Allah (ta‘alā) said, ‘Hukm is for none but Allah,’ but they said it in order to reject ‘Ali (radiyallahu ‘anhu) in his judgment.’”¹⁶

Due to that, it is obligatory upon the one who seeks the truth to acquire the truth from its source, not from those who are muddled up and confused - who have half knowledge - nor from the scholars of misguidance. Sufyan ibn ‘Uyaynah and others from the people of knowledge, such as Imam Ahmad and ‘Abdullah ibnul-Mubarak, used to say, “If the people dispute, look towards what the people of the thaghr (frontlines) are upon, as Allah (subhanahu wa ta‘alā) said, ‘And those who strive for Us - We will surely guide them to Our ways.’”¹⁷

So how could you leave, my mujahid brother, the people of the frontlines from the scholars that went forth to the land of jihad and Islam? How could you leave this pure fountain and then go take your din from the one who remains [sitting] between the laps of the tawaghit in the Arabian Peninsula and elsewhere? He never made takfīr of them nor rebuked them, mixing with their soldiers, security forces, and intelligence agents without explaining to them what they have committed of nullifiers [of Islam]. Do not be seduced, my brother, by the taghut’s imprisonment of one of them, as it might be a brightening or an advertisement of him and his sayings, or sending him [to be] among the brothers inside the prisons to cause anxiety and misconceptions between them. The opportunity was there for them, if they were people of truth and honesty, to go forth to the lands of jihad and make hijrah towards darul-Islam.

Verily, the taghut that protects the likes of those who theorize for ghulu in takfīr and allow their bid‘ah to spread, is the same one who protects the people of tajabhum and irja and assists them to spread their bid‘ah. This is all due because of nothing other than that both sides and methods result in the same outcome: that is slandering the people of truth, and abandoning hijrah and jihad for the sake of Allah (ta’ala).

My mujahid brother, how is it that after Allah saved you from the nets of the scholars of the tawaghit, the people of irja, you go back and fall into the nets of the scholars of the tawaghit that spread ghulu and misconceptions in order to make you sit back from your jihad and return you back from your hijrah; so that their allies from the enemies of Allah (ta‘alā) are saved from your harm?

Some of the Salaf said, “Allah (ta‘alā) has never obliged a thing upon His slaves except that the Shaytan has two tendencies with regards it: either towards ghulu or towards negligence, so whichever of the two over takes him, he is satisfied.”

Thus how could you leave the knowledge of the one who carries the weapon with you and fights with you in the frontlines from the people of knowledge and understanding - I do not mean those with half knowledge - and you surrender your mind and intellect to those who are not to be trusted for their din; living comfortably with the tawaghit and theorizes for you from afar?

3. The third cause from the causes of disunity and disagreement: baghi (transgression). It is said someone transgressed someone, meaning, encroached upon him, by saying or action, and went beyond its limit.

Allah (ta‘alā) said, “And they did not become divided until after knowledge had come to them - out of baghi between themselves.”

18 Ash-Shura: 14.
And He (ta‘ala) said, “And they did not differ except after knowledge had come to them - out of baghi between themselves.”

20

Shaykhul-Islam ibn Taymiyyah (rabimabullah) said, “The sound and reasonable ijtihad does not reach the level of fitnah and disunity except with baghi, not because of the mere ijtihad… Thus there is no fitnah and disunity with the existence of sound and reasonable ijtihad, except if accompanied with a type of baghi, and whatever leads to fitnah and disunity is not from the Din, whether it is a saying or an action…”

19 Al-Jathiyah: 17.
20 Al-Baqarah: 213.
21 Iqtida in-Sirat al-Mustaqim, p. 66.
And he (rahimahullah) also said, “And most of what the group of believers have disputed concerning, from the issues of usul (foundational matters of creed) and others in the topic of attributes [of Allah], predestination, leadership, and others, is similar to this type. As there is the mujtahid who is correct, there is also the mistaken mujtahid, and the mistaken one might be a transgressor, and there is [also] a transgressor without ijtihad, and there is in him the negligence of what he was ordered of patience.”

Going further (i.e., extending the dispute) against the opposition is from baghi, and [so is] accusing him in his intention, as well as accusing the Muslim with kufir or bid'ah wrongly and out of injustice without clear evidence.

Ibn Hibban narrated in his sahib from Hudhayfah (radiyallahu ‘anhu) that he said, “The Messenger of Allah (sallallahu ‘alayhi wa sallam) said,

‘I am afraid for you that a man reads the Quran until you see its delight on his face, and he becomes a supporter of Islam - until he is changed to what Allah willed - so he detached himself from it, threw it behind his back, and ran towards his neighbor with the sword and accused him with shirk.’ He (i.e., Hudhayfah) said, ‘O Prophet of Allah, which one of them deserves the label of shirk, the accused or the accuser?’ He said, ‘The accuser.’”

Al-Ajurri (rahimahullah) said,

Allah (‘azza wa jall), with His grace and favor, informed us in His Book about those who preceded from the people of the Book, the Jews and Christians, that they perished when they differed in their din, and our most generous Protector informed us that what led them to abandon the jama‘ah and head towards falsehood which they were forbidden from, was due to baghi and envy, after knowing what others did not know. So the severeness of baghi and envy caused them to split into groups, which led to their destruction. Our most generous Protector has warned us not to be like them and perish as they perished. He (‘azza wa jall) ordered us to stick to the jama‘ah and forbade us from splitting, just as the Prophet (sallallahu ‘alayhi wa sallam) warned us from splitting and ordered us with the jama‘ah, as well our leaders who preceded us from the scholars of the Muslimin, all of them ordered us to stick to the jama‘ah and prohibited us from splitting.\(^{23}\)

\(^{23}\) Ash-Shari‘ah, v. 1, p. 270.
We vehemently reject those who transgress and exceed the limits, so that they end up making takfir of scholars from the likes of ibn Qudamah al-Maqdisi, an-Nawawi, ibn Hajr al-‘Asqalani, and others besides them (rabimahumullah), from those who extended pure white hands to the ummah of Islam in spreading knowledge and giving victory to the Shari‘ah. We preserve their status and ask Allah to have mercy on them, and we make excuses for them in what they have done of mistakes and faults.

Ash-Sha’bi – one of the leading scholars of the Tabi’in – (rabimahullah) said, “The scholars in every nation are the most evil, except for the Muslimin, their scholars are the best of them.”

Shaykhul-Islam ibn Taymiyyah (rabimahullah) said, “Repelling takfir from the scholars of the Muslimin, even if they were mistaken, is one of the most deserving of the Shari‘ah purposes.”

Shaykh ‘Abdullah ibn al-Imam al-Mujaddid Muhammad ibn ‘Abdil-Wahhab (rabimahumullah) said, “Likewise, we do not say one has disbelieved whose din is sound, whose rectitude, knowledge, piety, and abstinence has become well-known, whose conduct was good and whose sincerity has reached the \[\text{24 Majmu' al-Fatawa, v. 7, p. 284.} \]

\[\text{25 ibid, v. 35, p. 103.} \]
ummah with self sacrifice in order to teach the beneficial sciences and authoring [works] regarding them, even if he was mistaken in this matter or others besides it.”26

And from the ones that we protect and preserve their rights over us are the leaders of the Islamic State; from Abu Mus‘ab az-Zarqawi, the amir of the istishhadyyin, the proclaimer of the truth and tawhid, and the slaughterer of the people of shirk and the criminals; to the mujahid Shaykh Abu ‘Umar al-Baghdadi, the holder of the established ‘aqidah and lofty aspirations; his minister Shaykh Abu Hamzah al-Muhajir, the author of beneficial books and writings; Shaykh Abu Muhammad al-‘Adnani, the suppressor of distorters and the breaker of the disbelievers’ borders; the righteous nurturing scholar Abu ‘Ali al-Anbari; and others from the leaders of this State that spent in the path of Allah. We consider them as such, and Allah is their judge, and we do not commend anyone over Allah.

This book, with the permission of Allah (ta‘ala), will consist of clarifying the following matters:

- The ruling of withholding takfir of the mushrikin or kuffar.

26 Ad-Durar, as-Saniyyah, v. 1, p. 236.
• The ruling of at-taifah al-mumtani‘ah and the ruling of those who differ in relation to it.

Chapter 2

Asl ad-Din (the Foundation of the Din)

In this chapter, our discussion will be concerning asl ad-Din, and it is a topic which is of the utmost importance, since no one’s belief is valid except if he fulfills it.

So what is asl ad-Din?

Asl ad-Din is to affirm belief in Allah, to worship Him (subhanahu) alone, to leave the worship of others, and to have bara’ah (disassociation) from those who commit shirk with Him (subhanahu). Four matters...

Shaykhul-Islam ibn Taymiyyah (rabimahullah) said, “Ibrahim and Musa both established asl ad-Din, which is to affirm belief in Allah, worshiping Him alone with no partners, and opposing those who disbelieved in Allah.”

“...and to have bara’ah from those who commit shirk with Him (subhanahu)” is what Shaykhul-Islam ibn Taymiyyah mentioned here as “opposing those who disbelieved in

27 Majmu’ al-Fatawa, v. 6, p. 203.
Allah.” The two statements are one in meaning, which is: to oppose the mushrikin and to have bara’ah from them.

Shaykhul-Islam ibn Taymiyyah (rahimahullah) said, “A’sl ad-Din is to love for the sake of Allah, to have hatred for the sake of Allah, to ally for the sake of Allah, to show hostility for the sake of Allah, and to worship Allah alone.”

Therefore, based on the above we say: if someone came with three things from asl ad-Din, but did not come with the fourth, for example, leaving the worship of others besides Allah (ta’ala), or he did not have bara’ah from those who commit shirk with Him (subhanahu), is his islam valid? The answer: no.

What then is he labeled? He is labeled a mushrik kafir. And this amounts to asl ad-Din which no one is excused [in regards to it] once he reaches the age of taklif (i.e., legally held responsible), even if he was ignorant; whether the Message reached him or it did not [reach him], or in other words: whether a messenger came to him or not.

The imam of the scholars of tafsir, ibn Jarir at-Tabari (rahimahullah), said after mentioning an issue of asl ad-Din, “There is no excuse of ignorance for whoever reached the age of taklif, whether he was from those whom a messenger

28 Minhaj as-Sunnah an-Nabawiyah, v. 5, p. 255.
came to or did not come to, or whether he saw others besides himself or he did not see anyone else.” 29

“...he did not see anyone else,” meaning, he did not see anybody except himself, such as the one living on a remote island and did not see any other person.

We say: if a messenger comes, then believing in him and in that which he brought enters into asl ad-Din. As such, belief in Muhammad (sallallahu ‘alayhi wa sallam), from the time he was sent to now, and what he was sent with overall, enters into asl ad-Din. Because asl ad-Din is the two testimonies.

Shaykhul-Islam ibn Taymiyyah (rahimahullah) said, “Asl ad-Din is the testimony that there is nothing worthy of worship except Allah and the testimony that Muhammad is His slave and messenger.” 30

Ok, [now that we know that], what is the meaning of “affirming belief in Allah?”

It means: to believe in His (ta‘alā) existence, that He has the most perfect attributes with no defects nor any deficiencies, 29 At-Tabṣir fi Ma‘alum ad-Dīn, p. 126.

30 Majmu’ al-Fatawa, v.1, p. 10.
and that He (subhanahu) is independent in creation and command.

Allah (ta‘alā) said, “Unquestionably, His is the creation and the command.”\(^{31}\)

The command from Him could be \textit{kawni} (universal), which is that He (subhanahu) says to a thing “be” and it is. And it could be \textit{shar‘i}, which is unique and specific to Him (subhanahu wa ta‘alā) in making matters legal and illegal.

Shaykhul-Islam ibn Taymiyyah (rahimahullah) said, “\textit{Asl ad-Din} is that nothing is illegal except that which Allah made illegal, and that there is no [accepted] way except for that which Allah legislated. Indeed, Allah (subhanahu) rebuked the \textit{mushrikin} in surah al-An‘am and al-A’raf for making illegal what Allah did not make illegal and for legislating matters that Allah did not give permission for.”\(^{32}\)

To repeat: what is \textit{asl ad-Din}? It is to affirm belief in Allah, to worship Him (subhanahu) alone, to leave the worship of others, and to have \textit{bara‘ah} from those who commit \textit{shirk} with Him (subhanahu). We explained what is “to affirm belief in Allah.”

\(^{31}\) Al-A’raf: 54

\(^{32}\) \textit{Majmu’ al-Fatawa}, v. 20, p. 357.
What is the meaning of “to worship Him (subhanahu) alone, to leave the worship of others, and to have bara’ah from those who commit shirk with Him (subhanahu)?”

Its meaning: the tawhid of Allah, to love tawhid and approve of it, to ally with its people, and to disapprove of shirk, to stay away from it, and to oppose its people.

Ibnul-Qayyim (rahimahullah) said, “Know, that if the goodness of tawhid and the vilification of shirk is not known by the ‘aql (intellect) and ingrained innately, then there is no assurance of anything to be included within the matters known by the ‘aql. Indeed, this is from the most apparent of matters and the clearest of what Allah has built within the intellects and innate natures.”

“...to ally with its people,” this is al-wala, loyalty to the believers. “...and to oppose its people,” meaning, the people of shirk. This is al-bara from the mushrikin, and here it becomes clear that al-wala and al-bara enters into asl ad-Din.

However, here is an [important] issue.

And it is that there is a difference between having animosity present [in the heart] towards the kafirin and between making 33 Madarij as-Salikin, v. 3, p. 455.

that animosity apparent. Thus the first - having animosity present [in the heart] - is from \textit{asl ad-Din}. And the second - manifesting that animosity - is from the \textit{wajibat} (obligations) of the \textit{Din} and is not from its \textit{asl}.

Shaykh ‘Abdul-Latif ibn ‘Abdir-Rahman Al ash-Shaykh (\textit{rahimahullah}) said, “The issue of manifesting animosity differs from the issue of having the presence of animosity [in the heart]. For the first, there is an excuse for the one who is weak or in fear due to His (\textit{ta‘alā}) saying, “except if you fear a danger from them.” The second, there is no alternative (i.e., no excuse/it is a must), because it enters into \textit{kufr bit-taghut}; there is a direct connection between it and between loving Allah and His messenger that a believer can not do without.”

\textit{Asl ad-Din} as we said: there is no excuse of ignorance with regards to it for anyone, meaning, one’s \textit{islam} is not valid if he negates it, and the name of \textit{kufr} is not taken off him.

Why is ignorance not considered in relation to \textit{asl ad-Din} from a sane man or a sane woman?

Because it is perceived and established by the \textit{mithaq} (covenant), the \textit{fitrah} (innate nature), and the ‘\textit{aql}.

\textsuperscript{34} \textit{Ad-Durar as-Saniyyah}, v. 8, p. 259.
Shaykhul-Islam ibn Taymiyyah (rahimahullah) said, “Asl ad-Din is the worship of Allah [alone], which its foundation is love and turning to Allah and turning away from others. This is the fitrah that mankind was fashioned upon.”

Ibnul-Qayyim (rahimahullah) said, “What could be considered as a sound ‘aql if it does not recognize the ugliness of shirk in and of itself? Knowing its heinousness is self-evident, known by necessity of the ‘aql, and the messengers alerted the nations of what is in their own intellects and innate natures regarding its ugliness.”

From here we know that establishing the hujjah (proof) is not a condition with regards to asl ad-Din for placing the ruling of kufr on someone who did not come with it. Meaning, we judge those whom did not come with asl ad-Din with kufr whether the hujjah was established or not.

We stress that no one has any excuse for ignorance in these matters which are from asl ad-Din, because it is from knowledge that is firmly established in everyone’s innate natures and intellects. Therefore, whoever nullifies the asl of his din is a mushrik. However, his punishment in this world and in the Hereafter is dependent upon the hujjah ar-Risaliyyah (the Prophetic proof) reaching him.

Al-‘Allamah ibnul-Qayyim (rahimahullah) said, “As for the kufr of ignorance without the establishment of the hujjah and without the ability to gain knowledge, then this is that which Allah has negated punishment in relation to it until the hujjah of the messengers is established.”

A question: what nullifies asl ad-Din?

The answer: shirk...

We said the definition of asl ad-Din is to affirm belief in Allah, to worship Him (subhanahu) alone, to leave the worship of others, and to have bara’ab from those who commit shirk with Him (subhanahu); so then: shirk with Allah nullifies and negates asl ad-Din.

The shar‘i meaning of shirk: it is to set up partners or equals to Allah (ta’alâ) in His rububiyyah (lordship), ulubiyyah (divinity), or His asma was-sifat (names and attributes).

An example of shirk in rububiyyah: it is to set up with Allah a creator, provider, manager, ruler, or legislator.

37 Tariq al-Hijratayn, p. 414.
An example of shirk in uluhiyyah: it is to make sujud, du‘a, to vow, or to sacrifice to other than Allah.

An example of shirk in asma was-sifat: it is to deny them, such as negating knowledge, hearing, or seeing from Allah, or to liken Him (subhanahu wa ta‘ala) to His creation.

All of that is shirk that no one is excused with regards to it from the ignorant mushrikin due to it nullifying asl ad-Din. Allah (subhanahu wa ta‘ala) in the Noble Quran ruled the followers as well as the blind followers [in shirk] with kufr. He ruled the illiterates from the people of the Book with kufr even with their ignorance, and He ruled the ignorant Arab mushrik with kufr before the coming of the Prophet (sallallahu ‘alayhi wa sallam).

Al-‘Allamah ibnul-Qayyim (rabimahullah) said, “Whoever died as a mushrik then he is in the Fire, even if that was before the mission [of the Prophet], because the mushrikin altered the Hanifiyyah, the din of Ibrahim, and committed and replaced it with shirk. They had no proof from Allah to do so, and its ugliness and threats had been well-known from all the messengers, from the first to the last. The news of the punishment of Allah on its people had spread and been spoken about between the different nations, century after century, so that the hujjah of Allah was established on the mushrikin in each time. And even if it had only been what He had established in His slaves from the \textit{tawhid} of His \textit{rububiyyah} that necessitates the \textit{tawhid} of His \textit{ilahiyyah}, and that it is impossible in each person’s \textit{fitrah} and \textit{‘aql} to have another object of worship with Him [it would have been sufficient], even though He (\textit{subhanahu}) does not punish based on that established \textit{fitrah} alone. However, the call of the messengers to \textit{tawhid} had been known to the people on earth, and the \textit{mushrik} deserves the punishment due to him opposing the call of the messengers. And Allah knows best.”\textsuperscript{38}

As for the ignorants from the \textit{mushrikin} after the Prophet (\textit{sallallahu ‘alayhi wa sallam}) was sent, from those who ascribe to Islam and others, then the matter is even worse. Because most of their ignorance comes from the angle of turning away from his (\textit{sallallahu ‘alayhi wa sallam}) message and turning away is \textit{kufr}, so how about when he comes with \textit{shirk}?!

Ash-Shawkani (\textit{rahimahullah}) said,

\begin{quote}
Whoever fell into \textit{shirk} ignorantly is not excused because the \textit{hujjah} has been established upon all of creation by the coming of Muhammad (\textit{sallallahu ‘alayhi wa sallam}). Therefore, whoever is ignorant then, indeed, it came from himself due to turning away from the Book and the Sunnah, as it is clearly explained in both; such as what He (\textit{subhanahu}) said in \end{quote}

\textsuperscript{38} \textit{Al-Huda}, v. 3, p. 685.
the Quran, “And We have sent down to you the Book as clarification for all things and as guidance and mercy.” As well as the Sunnah: Abu Dharr (radiyallahu ‘anhu) said, “Muhammad (sallallahu ‘alayhi wa sallam) left us in the following condition that there was not a bird flapping its wings in the air without his having already imparted to us knowledge about it,” or as he (radiyallahu ‘anhu) said. Therefore, whoever is ignorant then it is due to his turning away, and there is no excuse for anyone in turning away.”

The proofs on the lack of excuse of ignorance in relation to shirk and which nullifies asl ad-Din are many.

From them is His (ta’ala) saying, “A group [of you] He guided, and a group deserved [to be in] error. Indeed, they had taken the shayatin (devils) as allies instead of Allah while they thought that they were guided.”

At-Tabari (rahimahullah) said,

He (ta’ala dhikrabi) is saying, “The group who deserved [to be in] error are misguided from the path of Allah and prevented from traversing the straight

39 Al-Fath ar-Rabbani, v. 1, p. 146.
40 Al-A’raf: 30.
path because of having taken the shayatin as allies and supporters besides Allah, ignorant of the mistake they have done. Rather, they did so thinking that they are on guidance and upon the truth, and that the correct path is what they took.”

This is from clearest of evidences proving the mistake of the one who claims that Allah does not punish someone because of a sin or believing in misguidance unless and until he does so after he has known that it is wrong, so then he does that out of stubbornness to his Lord. If that was the case, then there would be no difference between the group of misguidance that is astray and thinks it is upon guidance and between the group of guidance. Indeed, Allah has established the difference between both their labels and rulings in this ayah.\(^{41}\)

Also, from the proofs that there is no excuse for the ignorant in regards to shirk is His (ta'ala) saying, “Say: ‘Shall We tell you the greatest losers in respect of [their] deeds? Those whose efforts have been wasted in this life while they thought that they were acquiring good by their deeds.’”\(^{42}\)

\(^{41}\) Tafsir at-Tabari, v. 12, p. 388.

\(^{42}\) Al-Kahf: 103-104.
At-Tabari (rahimahullah) said,

This is from the best of proofs highlighting the error of the saying of one who claims that no one can disbelieve in Allah except when he intends kufr after having knowledge of His oneness. Allah (ta‘ala dbikrahu) mentioned about them in this ayah that they are those who exerted themselves in this world but were misguided, while believing they were doing good by their deeds. He mentioned that they are the ones who disbelieved in the ayat of their Lord, and if the saying of those who claim that no one can disbelieve in Allah except when one has knowledge [was correct], then it would be incumbent for those people whom Allah informed about and said that they thought they were doing good deeds, that they actually were doing good and were to be rewarded for such. However, the [correct] saying conflicts with what they suggest, and the Exalted and Sublime informed us about them that they were with Allah disbelievers and that their deeds were laid to waste.\(^{43}\)

\(^{43}\) Tafsir at-Tabari, v. 18, p. 128.
When we judge a specific individual with kufr and shirk, what does that entail?

When we judge someone with kufr and shirk, even if he was ignorant, it consists of: cutting off the alliance of iman between us and him until he repents to Allah (ta‘ala); there is no marriage with him nor do we eat from his sacrifice; we do not ask Allah to forgive him if he dies in that condition; he is not entitled to the rights which Allah obligated to the Muslimin; and so on from the various rulings.

As far as his punishment in the dunya and in the Hereafter, then this is dependent on the establishment of the hujjah of the Message. This is what is correct from the statements of the ‘ulama, and its proof is the saying of His (ta‘ala), “And We never punish until We have sent a messenger.”

We stress upon the fact that whoever falls into shirk from this ummah is also a mushrik kafir, even if he claims Islam and utters the shahadatayn.

He (ta‘ala) said, “And it was already revealed to you and to those before you that if you should associate [anything] with 44 Al-Isra: 15.

Allah, your work would surely become worthless, and you would surely be among the losers.”

And He (ta‘ala) said after mentioning His prophets (‘alayhim as-salam), “That is the guidance of Allah by which He guides whomever He wills of His servants. But if they had associated others with Allah, then all that they used to do would have been of no benefit to them.”

These ayat are from the strongest of proofs that Islam is rendered null and void with shirk, and that whoever from this ummah commits shirk, then he is a kafir, even if he uttered the shahadatayn or performed some other rites of Islam.

We conclude with two issues:

The first: is if a person establishes asl ad-Din, worships Allah, does not commit shirk with Him, and believes in His messenger (sallallahu ‘alayhi wa sallam), but he is ignorant of the specific term “asl ad-Din.”

Meaning, if you were to ask him what is asl ad-Din, he stutters or does not reply. He is not harmed by that due to him having established asl ad-Din, just as it does not harm him if he does not know the specific terminologies of these [other] issues and matters.

45 Az-Zumar: 65.
46 Al-An‘am: 88.

The evidence for what we just mentioned is what comes in the two books of sabih narrations - with the wording of al-Bukhari - on the authority of Mu‘adh ibn Jabal (radiyallahu ‘anhu) that he said,

While I was riding upon a donkey with the Prophet (sallallahu ‘alayhi wa sallam), he said to me three times, “Oh Mu‘adh!” I responded each time, “I am here and at your service.” Then he said to me, “Do you know what is the right of Allah upon His worshipers?” I replied, “No.” He said, “The right of Allah upon His worshipers is that they worship Him without associating anything with Him.”

Thus the statement of Mu‘adh (radiyallahu ‘anhu) that he was ignorant of the right of Allah upon His worshipers did not make him fall into kufr or shirk, because he established that right even though he did not know the shar‘i terminology that indicates that meaning.

The second issue: one of the matters which we mentioned being from asl ad-Din may be hidden to some seekers of knowledge whether it is from asl ad-Din, and it is the issue of animosity towards the mushrikin and allying with the believers.
As a result, he considers it is from the wajibat of the Din and not from its asl, or he refrains from saying either. This does not nullify asl ad-Din so long as he has bara’ab from the mushrikin and loyalty to the believers.

Shaykh Sulayman ibn ‘Abdillah (rahimahullah) said,

It is sufficient for a Muslim to know that Allah made it a duty upon him to take the mushrikin as enemies and to not take them as allies, and He made it obligatory to love the believers and to take them as allies. He made this a condition of iman, just as He negated the iman of whoever shows love to “whoever opposes Allah and His messenger, even if they were their fathers, sons, brothers, or tribesmen.” As for that being part of the meaning of ‘la ilaha illallah’ or one of its inferred requirements, then Allah did not burden us with looking into that. He only burdened us with knowing that Allah made what was mentioned above a duty and obligation, and obligated acting upon so. This is fard and necessary without any doubt. And whoever considers that to be part of its meaning or inferred requirements, then that is fine and an added benefit. But whoever does not consider such, then he is not burdened to do so, especially during an argument or dispute, which leads to something wicked, including disagreement and division between the believers – those who upheld the obligations of iman, waged jihad for the sake of Allah, took the mushrikin as enemies, and took the Muslimin as allies.\textsuperscript{47}
Chapter 3

Takfīr al-Mushrikin

In this chapter, we will begin the discussion, with the help of Allah (ta‘ala), regarding takfīr al-mushrikin. We will be discussing two issues:

The first issue: we will answer the question: “What is the position of takfīr in the Din?”

The second issue: we will mention the ‘illah, manat, or sabab (i.e., the reason) of kufr in relation to the mutawaqiq (refrainer) of takfīr al-mushrikin.

Before we go into explaining these, we would like to first mention some statements of the people of knowledge regards to the kufr of the one who does not make takfīr of the kafīr...

Abul-Hasan al-Malati ash-Shafi‘i (rahimahullah) said, “The people of the Qiblah in totality have agreed, with no disagreement between them, that whoever doubts [the kufr of the kafīr, then he is a kafīr.”48

48 Tanbih war-Radd ‘ala Ablil-Abwa wal-Bida’, p. 40.
Qadi 'Iyad (rahimahullah) said, “We make takfir of whoever does not make takfir of anyone who follows another way instead of the way of the Muslimin, or stops regarding them, or doubts [their kufir], or validates their way, even if he professes Islam and belief in it and believes in the falsehood of every other path, as by displaying what opposes it (i.e., by refraining from takfir) he is a kafir.”

An-Nawawi (rahimahullah) said, “Whoever does not make takfir of those who follow a way instead of Islam, like the Christians, or doubts in regards to making takfir of them, or validates their way, then he is a kafir.”

Al-Hajjawi (rahimahullah) stated explicitly whoever “does not make takfir of those who follow a way instead of Islam, like the Christians, or doubts their kufir, or validates their way… then he is a kafir.”

Al-Buhuti (rahimahullah) stated likewise takfir of whoever “does not make takfir of those who follow a way instead of Islam, like the people of the Book, or doubts their kufir, or validates their way.”

50 Rawdah at-Talibin, v. 10, p. 70.
51 Al-Iqna’, v. 4, p. 298.
And Shaykh al-Mujaddid Muhammad ibn ‘Abdil-Wahhab (rahimahullah) said, “Whoever does not make takfīr of the mushrikin, or doubts their kufr, or validates their way has disbelieved by ijma’ (consensus).”

Now we move forward to explaining the first issue which is answering the question: “What is the position of takfīr in the Din?”

The answer is that takfīr is purely a hukm shar‘i (lit. a legislative ruling). It does not enter into the ‘aql nor does it fall under the issue and meaning of asl ad-Din which we previously explained in the last chapter. Therefore, takfīr al-mushrikin is from the wajibat of the Din and not from asl ad-Din.

Ok, what is the difference?

The difference is that what is from asl ad-Din, then there is no excuse of ignorance and it is not conditioned to establish the hujjah on whoever leaves it or leaves part of it.

As for takfīr, then it is a hukm shar‘i and there is an excuse of ignorance and tawil (interpretation) in respect to it.

Also, takfīr is not upon one level, rather, there are different levels. So from it is that which is known in the Din by necessity, like takfîr of whoever Allah made takfîr of specifically in His book, such as Iblis; Fir‘awn; and whoever follows a way instead of Islam like the Christians; the Jews; and the idol worshipers. And what is below that from what is differed upon with regards to takfîr of its doer, like leaving the salah and other than that. In addition to that, between them there are varying degrees, which we will soon address in a forthcoming chapter, with the permission of Allah (ta‘ala).

53 Ad-Durar as-Saniyyah, v. 10, p. 91.

Thus we say: Verily, takfîr is from the wajibat of the Din, a bukm shar‘i, it has no source except from the shar‘i evidences, and that the ‘aql has no place in it. This is what is followed and affirmed by the people of knowledge and what they have fixated in this matter. And we will relate some of their statements to you:

Qadi ‘Iyad (rahimahullah) said, “Title: A Chapter in Clarifying Sayings That Are To Be Considered Kufr, Disputed To Be Kufr, and What is Not Kufr. Know, that verifying this chapter and clarifying the ambiguity in it is to be taken from the Shar‘ (i.e., the Shar‘i‘ab), the ‘aql has no part in it.”

Shaykhul-Islam ibn Taymiyyah (rahimahullah) said, “Takfîr is a bukm shar‘i which renders someone’s wealth permissible to take, his blood permissible to shed, and sentencing one with abiding in the Fire. Thus it is taken how the rest of the shar‘i rulings are taken.”

And he (rahimahullah) said, “Indeed, kufr and fisq are shar‘i rulings; they are not like those matters which are established by the ‘aql. The kafir is whoever Allah and His messenger said is a kafir, and the fasiq is whoever Allah and His messenger said is a fasiq, just as the believer and Muslim is whoever Allah and His messenger said is a believer and Muslim…” Until he said, “So this issue, all of it, is established by the Shar‘.”

And he (rahimahullah) said, “Iman and kufr are from those rulings which are established by the Message, and it is by shar‘i evidences that distinguish between the believer and the kafir, not the intellectual proofs.”

Al-‘Allamah ibnul-Qayyim (rahimahullah) said,

[Placing] kufr is the right of Allah then rasuluhu (His messenger)... Established by the texts not by the saying of fulan (so-and-so)... Whoever the Lord of creation and ‘abduhu (His slave)... Described as a kafir, then he is a possessor of kufran.”

55 Bughyah al-Murtad, p. 345.
56 Minhaj as-Sunnah an-Nabawiyyah, v. 5, p. 92.
58 Al-Kafiyyah ash-Shafiyyah, p. 858.
Ibn Wazir as-San‘ani (rahimahullah) said, “The evidence for \textit{kufur} and \textit{fisq} are not taken except by the explicit revealed texts, and there is no dispute regarding that.”\textsuperscript{59}

Based on that we say: whoever is ignorant of a \textit{hukm} of the \textit{Shar‘} regarding one of the \textit{kuffar} or \textit{mushrikin}, or one of their groups, then his ruling is not like the ruling of the one who commits \textit{shirk}, because that which is \textit{shirk} nullifies \textit{asl ad-Din}, as we mentioned in the previous chapter. But rather, his ruling is like the ruling of anyone else who is ignorant of some rulings of the \textit{Shari‘ah} or some of the obligations of Islam. So whoever has had the \textit{hujjah} of the Message established against him regards to that disbelieves, but whoever has not had the \textit{hujjah} of the Message reach him, then he is not a \textit{kafir}. This is in contrast to being ignorant of \textit{tawhid}, which is \textit{asl ad-Din}, for indeed, he is a \textit{kafir} with the \textit{kufur} of ignorance.

This is what is followed and established by the people of knowledge regarding the difference between being ignorant of \textit{asl ad-Din} and being ignorant of the \textit{shari‘i} obligations.

Imam Muhammad ibn Nasr al-Marwazi narrated from a group of people of \textit{hadith} that they said, \textsuperscript{59} \textit{Al-‘Awasim min al-Qawasim}, v. 4, p. 179.

It is clear that knowledge of Allah is iman and ignorance of Him is kufr. Similarly, fulfilling the obligations is iman but being ignorant of them before they are revealed is not kufr…

Whoever rejects and denies these obligations now has disbelieved in the information revealed by Allah. But a Muslim who does not have knowledge of the revealed texts of Allah is not regarded as a kafir, and ignorance of Allah, in any case, is kufr whether before or after the khabar (revealed texts).

Concerning the manner in which establishing the hujjah takes place and how that condition is fulfilled before takfir differs depending on whether the matter is apparent and obvious or hidden and obscure. Thus the hujjah could be established on the mutawaqqif from takfir in a place where knowledge was present, so that the refraining is done from abandonment and is not done due to ignorance, and there being no excuse except if he was new into Islam or was raised in a remote area. On the other hand, indeed, the establishment of the hujjah could be by explaining the shar‘i text indicating the kufr of whoever does or says this or that, and the general reaching of the Quran would not be sufficient. For verily, in some cases the establishment of the hujjah is by explaining the evidence alongside removing the misconception and responding to the evidences of the opponent.

60 Ta’dhim Qadar as-Salah, v. 2, p. 520.

There will be further clarification regarding this matter in the discussion on the levels of those who refrain from takfīr.

Indicating the difference between the ignorance of Shari‘ah rites and the ignorance in asl ad-Din, or regarding takfīr al-mushrikin being from the Shari‘ah rites and not from asl ad-Din are a number of evidences; from them:

Indeed, all of the prophets (‘alayhim as-salam) began by calling their people to the worship of Allah alone with no partners. And if ignorance in the rulings of takfīr was kufr there would not have been a moment of delay in clarifying asl ad-Din.

As well, from the proofs of this differentiation that takfīr is from the wajībat of the Din and not from asl ad-Din is what is confirmed from the Sahabah (rādiyallahu ‘anhum) with regards to refraining from takfīr of people who fell into riddah (apostasy) and calling them Muslimin. When the ayat were revealed making it clear the kufr of those people, they (i.e., the Sahabah) were not asked to repent from their tawaqquf (refrainment). Whereas it is confirmed that one of the Sahabah fell into shirk out of ignorance, despite that, the Sahabah declared his kufr, and the Prophet (sallallahu ‘alayhi wa ordered him to renew his islam. This proves the differentiation between falling into shirk due to ignorance and between being ignorant of the Shari‘ab rites and rulings.

On authority of ibn ‘Abbas (radiyallahu ‘anhuma), that he said,

Some of the people of Makkah accepted Islam but they used to hide their islam. Then the mushrikin took them out with them on the Day of Badr. Some were wounded and some of them were killed. The Muslimun said, “These companions of ours were Muslimin and were forced [to go out], so seek forgiveness for them.” Then the ayah came down, “Indeed, those whom the angels take [in death] while wronging themselves - [the angels] will say, ‘In what [condition] were you?’ They will say, ‘We were oppressed in the land.’ The angels will say, ‘Was not the earth of Allah spacious [enough] for you to emigrate therein?’ For those, their refuge is Hell - and evil it is as a destination.” So a message was sent with this ayah to those Muslimin who remained and that there is no excuse for them. They then left, but the mushrikin followed and caught up with them and dragged them into fitnab. Therefore, this ayah: “And of the people are some who say ‘we believe in Allah,’” was sent down.\textsuperscript{61}

Shaykh ‘Abdullah ibn Muhammad ibn ‘Abdil-Wahhab (rahimahumullah) said, “Thus Allah revealed this ayah and made clear the ruling of those mushrikin and that they are from the people of the Fire, even though they professed Islam.”\textsuperscript{62}

And on the authority of Sa’d ibn Abi Waqqas (radiyallahu ‘anhu) that he said,

We were talking about something, and I had only recently left jahiliyyah behind, so I swore by al-Lat and al-‘Uzza. The companions of the Messenger of Allah said to me: “What a terrible thing you have said! Go to the Messenger of Allah and tell him, for we think that you have committed kufr.” So I went to him and told him, and he said to me: “Say \textit{la ilaha illallah wahdahu la sharika lab} (there is none worthy of worship except Allah alone with no partners) three times, and seek refuge with Allah from the Shaytan three times, and spit dryly to your left three times, and do not say that again.”\textsuperscript{63}

\textsuperscript{61} Narrated by at-Tabari in his \textit{tafsir} (v. 9, p. 102) with an authentic chain.
\textsuperscript{62} \textit{Ad-Durar as-Saniyyah}, v. 10, p. 241.
\textsuperscript{63} Narrated by an-Nasai with a jayyid chain.
Ibnul-Wazir as-San‘ani (rahimahullah) commented on this hadith and said, “This is a command to renew [one’s] islam.”

Ibnul-‘Arabi al-Maliki (rahimahullah) said, “Therefore, whoever swears by al-Lat and al-‘Uzza while in Islam, and puts stress on that, meaning, of glorification, is in reality a kafir.”

Shaykh Sulayman ibn ‘Abdillah (rahimahullah) said, “It was taken from it (i.e., the hadith of Sa’d) by a group of scholars who said if he was to swear by other than Allah, [then he] disbelieves and commits shirk. They said because the Prophet (sallallahu ‘alayhi wa sallam) ordered him to renew his islam by saying la ilaha illallah; if he had not disbelieved, he would not have been ordered to do so. The majority of scholars, on the other hand, said he does not fall into major kufr that removes one from the Millah and that rather, it is minor shirk.”

Thus he was not excused (radiyallhu ‘anhu) for falling into that, even though he just recently left jabiliyyah.

Also, from the proofs of this differentiation that takfir is from the wajibat of the Din and a hukm shar‘i, and not from asl ad-Din which no one is excused in, is what is narrated from the Sahabah (radiyallahu ‘anhum) in their differing amongst each other regards to takfîr of some murtaddîn. When Allah (ta‘âlâ) clarified the kufr of those people (i.e. the murtaddîn), He did not order those who refrained from takfîr to renew their islam.

Indeed, Allah (ta‘âlâ) said, “What is [the matter] with you [that you are] two groups concerning the hypocrites, while Allah has made them fall back [into error and disbelief] for what they earned. Do you wish to guide those whom Allah has sent astray? And he whom Allah sends astray - never will you find for him a way [of guidance]. They wish you would disbelieve as they disbelieved so you would be alike. So do not take from among them allies until they emigrate for the cause of Allah.”

What is authentic in relation to the reason for its revelation is that the Prophet (sallallahu ‘alayhi wa sallam) went out to [the Battle] of Uhud and some people then who were originally with him, left and turned back. The Sahabah of the Prophet (sallallahu ‘alayhi wa sallam) were split on two opinions concerning them; some said, “We should kill them,” while others said, “Do not.”

And it has been authentically reported from Mujahid (rahimahullah) that he said,

68 Agreed upon.
Some people came out from Makkah until they reached Madinah. They claimed to be muhajirun and then committed riddah after that. They asked the Prophet (sallallahu ‘alayhi wa sallam) for permission to return to Makkah and to take their goods in order to trade. The believers differed regarding them; some said, “They are munafiqun,” and others said, “They are believers.” Then Allah showed their nifaq and ordered to fight them.69

Indeed, it was also reported with this meaning from ‘Abdur-Rahman ibn ‘Awf and ibn ‘Abbas (radiyallahu ‘anhum). Additionally, it was authentically narrated in mursal (i.e., missing a companion in the narration) form from a number of Tabi‘in, and they are: ‘Ikrimah, as-Suddi, Qatadah, and Muhammad ibn Ka‘b al-Qaradhi (rabimabumullah).

Imam at-Tabari (rabimabullah) said in his explanation of the ayah of His (ta‘ala) saying: “What is [the matter] with you that you are two groups concerning hypocrites while Allah has made them fall back [into error and disbelief] for what they earned?” He said,

69 Narrated by at-Tabari with an authentic chain.
It means: Allah returned them to the rulings of the people of shirk, in that their blood is permissible to be shed and their offspring enslaved.\(^{70}\)

Indeed, Imam at-Tabari gave precedence to the opinion that the reason for the revelation of this ayah was concerning a people who apostatized from Islam. He said, after mentioning the different sayings of the Salaf regards to the reason for its revelation,

And the first of these opinions is correct. The opinion which stated this ayah was revealed in regards to the differing of the companions of the Messenger of Allah (sallallahu ‘alayhi wa sallam) concerning people who apostatized after Islam from the people of Makkah.\(^{71}\)

Ibn Abi Zamanin (rahimahullah) said,

They were people from the munafiqin who were in Madinah then left to Makkah. Then they left Makkah to Yamamah for trade, and then they apostatized from Islam and exposed what was in their hearts of shirk. Therefore, the Muslimin met up with them and were split into two (i.e., two groups) regarding them.

Some said: “Their blood is permissible. They are mushrikin murtaddin.” Others said: “Their blood is not permissible. They are a people who fitnah took hold of.” As a result, Allah (ta’ala) said, “What is [the matter] with you [that you are] two groups concerning the hypocrites.”\(^\text{72}\)

Another proof is what is favored by a group of scholars in that ‘Umar ibnul-Khattab (radiyallahu ‘anhu) refrained from takfîr of those who resisted the zakab in the beginning. When Abu Bakr (radiyallahu ‘anhu) clarified their kufr to him, he agreed with him and was not asked to repent from his refraining in relation to them.

Verily, it is authentically reported from ‘Umar (radiyallahu ‘anhu) that he said to Abu Bakr about the murtaddin,

How can you fight the people when the Messenger of Allah (sallallahu ‘alayhi wa sallam) said, “I was ordered to fight the people until they say la ilaha illallah, so whoever says that, his wealth and self is protected from me except by its right (i.e. accordance to Shari‘ah), and their account is with Allah.”\(^\text{73}\)

\(^{72}\) Tafsir al-Quran al-‘Azîz, v. 1, p. 393.
\(^{73}\) Sahih al-Bukhari, v. 2, p. 105, #1399.
As a matter of fact, some of the leading scholars of the Salaf refrained, in the beginning of the matter, from takfir of those who said the Quran is created. And from them are some who refrained from declaring the kufr of the Jahmiyyah, despite its severity. They were not kuffar due to that, and when the evidence indicating their kufr became clear to them, they did not refrain [from takfir] of them, nor did they renew their islam due to their prior refrainment.

On the authority of Yaqub ibn Ibrahim ad-Dawraqi who said,

I asked Ahmad ibn Hanbal about the one who says the Quran is created, and he replied back to me, “I used to not make takfir of them until I read [some] ayat from the Quran: ‘So if you were to follow their desires after what has come to you of knowledge.’ And His saying: ‘After the knowledge has reached you.’ And His saying: ‘He has sent it down with His knowledge.”” 74

And from ibn ‘Ammar al-Mawsili (rabimabullah) who said,

Ibnul-Madini said to me: “What prevents you from making takfir of them (i.e., the Jahmiyyah)?!” And I had initially refrained from making takfir until

Ibnul-Madini said to me what he said; so when he gave in during the Mihnah, I wrote to him reminding him of Allah and reminding him of what he told me in making takfir of them.\textsuperscript{75}

And with that we conclude the first issue…

We now begin the second issue which is: “What is the manat, ‘illah, or sabab of kufr for the one who refrains from takfir al-mushrikin?”

The answer: It is due to takthib (belying) and denying the Shari’ah texts. By looking at the statements of the people of knowledge regarding this nullifier it is apparently clear that what is firmly settled is that the kufr of the one who refrains from takfir returns back to belying and denying the Shari’ah texts, not from the angle of nullifying asl ad-Din.

Verily, a multitude of scholars repeatedly made mention of this manat based on that fact that kufr here is due to rejecting the widespread legal rulings that are agreed upon, or due to rejecting what is known from the Din by necessity.

Shaykhu-l-Islam ibn Taymiyyah (rahimahullah) said, “Kufr is only by rejecting what is known from the Din by necessity, or rejecting the widespread legal texts that are agreed upon and what is similar to that.”

Here is what we have found concerning this from the sayings of the people of knowledge who stated the manat of kufr for the mutawaqqif of the kafir.

Indeed, Qadi ‘Iyad mentioned the reason for takfīr of the mutawaqqif of the Jews, Christians, and from those who conflict with the Din of Islam, according to what was cited from al-Baqillani:

Because the Tawqif (the revealed texts) and consensus agreed on their kufr, so whoever refrains from that has rejected the evidences and texts, or he doubted them; as rejecting or doubting these two does not come except from a kafir.

Ibnul-Wazir as-San‘ani (rahimahullah) said about the issue of making takfīr of the one who doubts in regards to [the kufr of] the idol worshiper and does not make takfīr of him: “There is no other reason except that his kufr (i.e., the idol worshiper) is known in the Din by necessity.”

76 Majmu’ al-Fatawa, v. 1, p. 106.
Shaykh ‘Abdullah ibn Muhammad ibn ‘Abdil-Wahhab (rahimahullah) explained the reason being for making \textit{takfīr} of one who says “that it is not permissible to make \textit{takfīr} of one who says the \textit{shahadatayn} even if he worships other than Allah,” by stating, “Because whoever says that has belied Allah, His messenger, and the consensus of the \textit{Muslimin}.”

And some of the \textit{Aimmah ad-Da’wah an-Najdiyyah} said, “Indeed, those who do not make \textit{takfīr} of the \textit{mushrikin} have not affirmed [belief in] the Quran. For verily, the Quran has made \textit{takfīr} of the \textit{mushrikin} and has ordered to make \textit{takfīr} of them, to take them as enemies, and to fight them.”

Chapter 4

_Takfīr al-Mushrikin_
(Part 2)

In this chapter, we will continue the discussion, with the help of Allah (ta‘ala), regarding two issues:

The first: “Is all of _takfīr al-mushrikin_ upon one level or upon multiple levels?”

The second: We will make mention of the different levels of the _mutawaqīfīn_ (refrainers) of _takfīr al-mushrikin_...

_We will now begin with the first issue: “Is all of _takfīr al-mushrikin_ upon one level or upon multiple levels?”_

The answer: The words of the people of knowledge have stipulated that _takfīr_ is a _hukm_ _sharī‘i_ upon different levels dependent on two matters:

The first: how strongly established it is in the _Sharī‘_; meaning, how clear and apparent is the _sharī‘i_ evidence for the _kufr_ of so-and-so from the people, and it is what is known as knowing the \textit{hukm}…

The second: how firmly established it is that the specific individual who fell into \textit{shirk} and \textit{kufr} is, and it is what is referred to as knowing the \textit{hal} (the reality). And it is by seeing, or by hearing, or by the testimony of witnesses…

Indeed, Shaykhul-Islam ibn Taymiyyah (\textit{rahimahullah}) said, “\textit{Takfir} is a \textit{hukm shar'i} which renders someone’s wealth permissible to take, his blood permissible to shed, and sentencing one with abiding in the Fire. Thus it is taken how the rest of the \textit{shar'i} rulings are taken. At times it is perceived to be certain, sometimes highly assumed, and at other times hesitation occurs in it. Whenever hesitation comes, refraining from \textit{takfir} is given precedence, while rushing into \textit{takfir} occurs habitually with those whom are overcome by ignorance.”\textsuperscript{81}

That opposes the claim of those who say that all types of \textit{kufr} and \textit{shirk} are upon one level and that it is to be known by both the knowledgeable and the ignorant. There is no doubt in the invalidity of this claim and its opposition to what has been stated by the people of knowledge with regards to this issue. Rather, it even clashes with the texts which state that some types of kufr are worse and more severe than others.

He (ta’ala) said, “They were nearer to disbelief that day than to faith.”82 And He (ta’ala) said, “Indeed, the postponing [of restriction within sacred months] is an increase in disbelief.”83 And He (ta’ala) said, “Those who disbelieved after their belief and then went on increasing in kufr…”84 And He (ta’ala) said, “The bedouins are more severe in kufr and nifaq.”85

As for the second issue, and it is: the varying levels of the mutawaqqifin in takfīr al-mushrikin…

So we say: Verily, with regards to the mutawaqqifin in takfīr al-mushrikin there are varying levels dependent on the strength of the shar‘i evidence and the apparentness of the kufr or shirk…

Shaykh al-Mujaddid Muhammad ibn ‘Abdil-Wahhab (rahimahullah) said, “Those tawaghit whom the people believe in, commend, and order the people with, from the people of al-Kharaj and other ones well-known and famous to all; they are all kuffar apostates from Islam. And whoever argues for

83 At-Tawbah: 37.
84 Al ‘Imran: 90.
85 At-Tawbah: 97.
them, or rebukes whoever makes takfir of them, or claims that their actions - although wrong - does not take them to kufr, then the least one can say about this defender is that he is a fasiq. His advice is not taken, nor his testimony, and salah is not performed behind him.”

Consider his statement and how he recognized different levels of the mutawaqiq of those tawaghib; the lowest level among them is fisq. And this confirms that the mutawaqiqifin of the mushrikin have different levels and degrees.

These levels are based on the strength of the textual evidence and how apparent the kufr or shirk is, regardless of its severity. The shirk might be more severe in one case, while it is not as apparent as that which is less severe than it.

An example of that is: the shirk of the idol worshiper compared with the shirk of the Jahmiyyah. The ruling of takfir of the mutawaqiq of the idol worshiper is stronger than the ruling of takfir of the mutawaqiq of the Jahmiyyah because the worship of idols is more well founded in apparentness than that of tajabhum, even though tajabhum is more severe in shirk.

86 Ad-Durar as-Saniyyah, v. 10, p. 52.
87 Publisher’s note: It is the creed of the Jahmiyyah which includes, but not limited to, denying the attributes of Allah.
Al-‘Allamah ibnul-Qayyim (rahimahullah) said, “Indeed, the mushrik who affirms the attributes of the Lord is better than the denying rejector of His perfect attributes… So where is the comparison in maligning and denying the attributes of perfection, from worshiping an intermediary between the True Deity, and a worshipper who seeks nearness to Him by worshiping that intermediary, doing so out of magnifying and honoring Him (i.e., there is no comparison). The disease of this ta’til (rejection) is a continual disease which has no cure.”

And he (rahimahullah) said, “The shirk of the worshiper of the idols, the statues, the sun, the moon, and the stars, is far better than the ‘tawhid’ of those (i.e., Jahmiyyah). Certainly, their (i.e., the idol Worshiper, etc.) shirk is in ilahiyyah while affirming the Creator, His attributes, actions, ability, will, and His knowledge of all things, and the ‘tawhid’ of those (i.e., Jahmiyyah) is in denying His rububiyyah, ilahiyyah, and all His attributes. Thus this shirk is the worse type, and the more a person increases in ta’til, the worse his shirk becomes.”

Based on what has past, we will begin mentioning the various levels of those mutawaqqifin of the mushrikin or kuffar

88 Ad-Da wad-Dawa, p. 144.
89 Mukhtasar as-Sawa’iq al-Mursalah, p. 186.
according to how apparent the evidences are for their kufr, relying on the speech of the people of knowledge for that.

The first level: whoever refrains [from takfir] in regards to whose kufr is known by necessity from the din of the people of the religions; from which is:

First: whoever refrains [from takfir] of Iblis, Fir‘awn, or of whoever claims divinity for himself or others.

Shaykhul-Islam ibn Taymiyyah (rahimahullah) said about takfir of whoever does not make takfir of Fir‘awn, “Verily, this is knowledge known by necessity from the din of the people of the religions. The Muslimin, the Jews, and the Christians know that Fir‘awn was from the most disbelieving creations in Allah.”

Second: whoever refrains [from takfir] of the idol worshiper, even if he affiliated himself to Islam.

Shaykhul-Islam ibn Taymiyyah (rahimahullah) said with regards to takfir of whoever validates the worship of idols, “And whoever does not make takfir of them, then he is more disbelieving than the Jews and Christians, as even the Jews and Christians make takfir of the idol worshipers.”

Ibnul-Wazir as-San‘ani (rahimahullah) said, “There is no doubt that whoever doubts in the kufr and does not make takfir of the idol worshiper, that it is obligatory to make takfir of him, and there is no other reason except that his kufr (i.e., the idol worshiper) is known in the Din by necessity.”

The ruling of the mutawaqiq in relation to this level is kufr, and there is no excuse of ignorance for whomever the Prophetic proof has reached.

The second level: whoever refrains [from takfīr] in regards to whose kufr is known by necessity in the Din of the Muslims in particular; such as whoever refrains [from takfīr] of the Jews, Christians, or whoever differs from the Din of Islam.

Qadi ‘Iyad (rahimahullah) said, “We make takfīr of whoever does not make takfīr of anyone who follows another din other than Islam.”

91 ibid, v. 2, p. 127.
92 Ar-Rawd al-Basim, v. 2, p. 509.
than the Millah of the Muslimin, or stops short regarding them, or doubts [their kufr], or validates their way.”

And Shaykhul-Islam ibn Taymiyyah (rahimahullah) said, “Whoever does not make it prohibited to follow the religion of the Jews and Christians after he (sallallahu ‘alayhi wa sallam) was sent, rather, whoever does not make takfir of them and does not have enmity towards them, is not a Muslim by the consensus of the Muslimin.”

The ruling of the mutawaqgif in this level is kufr, and there is no excuse of ignorance for whomever the Prophetic proof has reached.

The third level: whoever refrains [from takfir] of whoever ascribes to Islam and fell into shirk or kufr that there is a consensus regards to the disbelief of whoever fell into it; and those [who refrain from takfir] are upon different levels:

The first from the third level: the one who does not have a tawil with him. In this case, he is to be explained to and shown either the reality [of those who fell into the agreed upon shirk or kufr], or the shari’i hukm regarding them, or both their reality and shari’i hukm. This is in accordance with how widespread and apparent the shirk is and how clear the reality is for the mutawaqqif in regards to them. If after that, one still refrains, then he is a kafir. And if their reality and shar‘i hukm is already apparently clear, then the one who refrains [from takfir] is judged with kufr without any explanation.

Shaykhul-Islam ibn Taymiyyah (rahimahullah) said about a sect from the Batiniyyah, “The one who has a good opinion of them and claims to be unaware of their reality, then their reality is clarified to him, if he does not disassociate himself from them and openly reject them, he is to be judged as being from them.”

Thus look to how Shaykhul-Islam restricted takfir of the one who refrains [from takfir] regarding that sect upon his knowing their reality.

Shaykh Sulayman ibn ‘Abdillah (rahimahumallah) said with regards to some apostates in his time, “If someone doubts their kufr or is ignorant of their kufr, it is to be clarified to him using evidences about their kufr from the Book of Allah and the Sunnah of His messenger (sallallahu ‘alayhi wa sallam). After that, if he doubts or hesitates, then he is a kafir

95 ibid, v. 2, p. 133.
according to the agreement of the scholars, since the one who doubts the kufr of a kafir is himself a kafir.”

Notice here that Shaykh Sulayman stipulated explaining and showing the shar'i hukm to the mutawaqqif before making takfîr of him.

Imam Abu Hatim ar-Razi (rahimahullah) said about the one who says the Quran is created, “Whoever doubts his kufr from those who understand and are not ignorant, then he is a kafir. And whoever is ignorant is taught. So he either complies to the truth of making takfîr of him, or else kufr would be applied.”

In relation to this type, Abu Hatim conditioned teaching the mutawaqqif before making takfîr of him.

Shaykhul-Islam ibn Taymiyyah (rahimahullah) said in regards to the Hululiyah, “Whoever doubts their kufr after knowing their statements and [after] knowing the Din of Islam, then he is a kafir like whoever doubts in the kufr of the Jews, Christians, and mushrikin.”

96 Ad-Durar as-Saniyyah, v. 8, p. 160.
98 Publisher’s note: They are a Jahmi sect whose beliefs revolve around the false notion that Allah is everywhere. And He is far above their claim.
As for this instance, he conditioned informing both the reality and the shar’i hukm.

Shaykhul-Islam ibn Taymiyyah (rahimahullah) said about the Druze sect, “There is no disagreement in the kufr of these amongst the Muslimin. Rather, whoever doubts their kufr is a kafir like them.”\(^{100}\)

Notice in this form that in making taksir of the mutawaqqif, he did not stipulate the condition of explaining the reality and [shar’i] hukm. This is due to the apparent reality of this sect and of the proofs indicating their kufr.

The second category from the third level: it is the one who has corrupt principles, then comes with a tawil. The ruling on him hangs on how apparent and widespread the kufr of a specific individual or group and sect is.

Therefore, if the kufr is widespread and known, then he is to be considered as a denying obstinate kafir hiding behind the guise of his tawil. And in other cases and situations there is a dispute on whether he is a fasiq or kafir.

Shaykhul-Islam ibn Taymiyyah (rahimahullah) said regarding a sect of the Batiniyyah, “As for whoever says their statements have a tawil that agrees with the Shari‘ah, then he is to be considered as one of their heads and leaders. If he was intelligent, then he would know his lie in that which he said, and if he actually believes in that inside and out, then he is more disbelieving than the Christians. And so the one who does not make takfir of those (i.e., Batiniyyah) and excuses their statements [of kufr] due to tawil, would be even further away from takfir of the Christians for their belief in the trinity.”

And he (rahimahullah) also said, “And from him (i.e., Imam Ahmad) there are two narrations in making takfir of the one who refrains from takfir (i.e., those who do not make takfir of the Jahmiyyah), and what is correct from the two is that he does not disbelieve.”

Imam al-Bukhari (rahimahullah) said, “I have looked into the sayings of the Jews, Christians, and Majus, and I have never seen a people more astray in their kufr than them (i.e., the Jahmiyyah), and I consider those who do not make takfir of them to be ignorants, except for the one who does not know their kufr.”

What is apparent from this statement by Imam al-Bukhari is that he leans towards refraining from takfir of those who 101 ibid, v. 2, p. 133.

102 ibid, v. 12, p. 486.
103 Khalq Af'al al-Ibad, p. 71.
refrain from takfir of the Jahmiyyah, which is similar to one of two narrations from Ahmad.

Al-Mardawi (rahimahullah) said,

Ibn Hamid in his usul mentioned the kufr of the Khawarij, Rafidah, Qadariyyah, and the Murjiah, and said, “Whoever does not make takfir of those whom we have made takfir of, then he is ruled with fisq and is abandoned. There are two opinions regarding his kufr.” And what he (i.e., ibn Hamid) mentioned, and others besides him from al-Marwadi, Abu Talib, Ya’qub, and those like them, is that such a person does not disbelieve…

He (i.e., ibn Hamid) said regarding the Mu’tazilah who deny that the heart of the Prophet (sallallahu `alayhi wa sallam) was taken out and returned [to his body] during the night of the Isra, “There are two opinions with regards to their kufr,” based on his principle in relation to the Qadariyyah who deny the knowledge of Allah and that it is as an attribute of Him, and based upon [his ruling] of who says, “I do not make takfir of the one who does not make takfir of the Jahmiyyah.”

\[104\] \textit{Al-Insaf fi Ma’rifah ar-Rajih min al-Khilaf}, v. 1, p. 324.
Shaykhul-Islam ibn Taymiyyah (rahimahullah) said, “As for the Salaf and the leading scholars, they did not dispute amongst each other over not making takfir of the Murjiah, the Shi‘ah al-Mufaddalah (i.e., those who preferred ‘Ali over other Sahabah without cursing them), and other [groups of bida’]. There is no discrepancy in the narrations of Ahmad in not making takfir, even though some of his companions differed from what is reported from him or his madhhab and mentioned the making of takfir of all the people of bida’ from those [mentioned] or other than them, contrary to what is reported from him or his madhhab; until some of them made those and others remaining [in Jahannam] a general [rule], and this is an error according to his madhhab and according to the Shari‘ah.”

As for the third category from the third level: it is the one who has sound principles, then comes with a tawil, as what occurred from some Sahabah (radiyallahu ‘anhum) in their error in regards to some apostates. When Allah (ta‘ala) clarified the mistake of those who made tawqquf, He did not label them with kufr.

On authority of ibn ‘Abbas (radiyallahu ‘anhum), that he said,

Some of the people of Makkah accepted Islam but they used to hide their islam. Then the mushrikin took them out with them on the Day of Badr. Some were wounded and some of them were killed. The Muslimun said, “These companions of ours were Muslimin and were forced [to go out], so seek forgiveness for them.” Then the ayah came down, “Indeed, those whom the angels take [in death] while wronging themselves - [the angels] will say, ‘In what [condition] were you?’ They will say, ‘We were oppressed in the land.’ The angels will say, ‘Was not the earth of Allah spacious [enough] for you to emigrate therein?’ For those, their refuge is Hell - and evil it is as a destination.” So a message was sent with this ayah to those Muslimin who remained, and that there is no excuse for them. They then left, but the mushrikin followed and caught up with them and dragged them into fitnah. Therefore, this ayah: “And of the people are some who say ‘we believe in Allah,’” was sent down.

105 Majmu’ al-Fatawa, v. 3, p. 351.

Shaykh ‘Abdullah ibn Muhammad ibn ‘Abdil-Wahhab (rabimahumullah) said, “Thus Allah revealed this ayah and made clear the ruling of those mushrikin and that they are from the people of the Fire, even though they professed Islam.”

106 Narrated by at-Tabari in his tafsir (v. 9, p. 102) with an authentic chain.
Furthermore, it is narrated that the Sahabah (radiyallahu ‘anhum) disagreed amongst each other with regards to takfīr of some of the murtaddin. When Allah (ta‘āla) clarified the kufr of those people (i.e. the murtaddin), He did not order those who refrained from takfīr to renew their islam.

Indeed, Allah (ta‘āla) said, “What is [the matter] with you [that you are] two groups concerning the hypocrites, while Allah has made them fall back [into error and disbelief] for what they earned. Do you wish to guide those whom Allah has sent astray? And he whom Allah sends astray - never will you find for him a way [of guidance].”\(^{108}\)

What is authentic in relation to the reason for its revelation is that the Prophet (sallallahu ‘alayhi wa sallam) went out to [the Battle] of Uhud and some people then who were originally with him, left and turned back. The Sahabah of the Prophet (sallallahu ‘alayhi wa sallam) were split on two opinions concerning them; some said, “We should kill them,” while others said, “Do not.”\(^{109}\)

And it has been authentically reported from Mujahid (rahimahullah) that he said,

\(^{108}\) An-Nisa: 88.

\(^{109}\) Agreed upon.
Some people came out from Makkah until they reached Madinah. They claimed to be muhajirun and then committed riddah after that. They asked the Prophet (sallallahu ‘alayhi wa sallam) for permission to return to Makkah and to take their goods in order to trade. The believers differed regarding them; some said, “They are munafiqun,” and others said, ‘They are believers.” Then Allah showed their nifāq and ordered to fight them.\(^\text{110}\)

It is also narrated from ibn ‘Abbas (radiyallahu ‘anhumā) that he said, “There were two groups and the Messenger (sallallahu ‘alayhi wa sallam) did not deny anyone from amongst either, then the ayah was revealed, ‘What is [the matter] with you [that you are] two groups concerning the hypocrites.’”\(^\text{111}\)

Imam at-Tabari (rahimahullahu) said in his explanation of the ayah of His (ta’ala) saying: “What is [the matter] with you that you are two groups concerning hypocrites while Allah has made them fall back [into error and disbelief] for what they earned?” He said, \(^{110}\) Narrated by at-Tabari with an authentic chain.

\(^{111}\) Tafsir at-Tabari, v. 8, p. 10.
It means: Allah returned them to the rulings of the people of shirk; in that their blood is permissible to be shed and their offspring enslaved.\textsuperscript{112}

Indeed, Imam at-Tabari gave precedence to the opinion that the reason for the revelation of this ayah was concerning a people who apostatized from Islam. He said, after mentioning the different sayings of the Salaf regards to the reason for its revelation:

> And the first of these opinions is correct. The opinion which stated this ayah was revealed in regards to the differing of the companions of the Messenger of Allah (sallallahu ‘alayhi wa sallam) concerning people who apostatized after Islam from the people of Makkah.\textsuperscript{113}

Ibn Abi Zamanin (rahimahullah) said,

> They were people from the munafiqin who were in Madinah then left to Makkah. Then they left Makkah to Yamamah for trade, and then they apostatized from Islam and exposed what was in their hearts of shirk. Therefore, the Muslimin met up with them and were split into two (i.e., two groups) regarding them.

\textsuperscript{112} Tafsir at-Tabari, v. 8, p. 7.
\textsuperscript{113} ibid, v. 8, p. 13.
Some said: “Their blood is permissible. They are mushrikin murtaddin.” Others said: “Their blood is not permissible. They are a people who fitnah took hold of.” As a result, Allah (ta’ala) said, “What is [the matter] with you [that you are] two groups concerning the hypocrites.”

Another proof is what is favored by a group of scholars in that ‘Umar ibnul-Khattab (radiyallahu ‘anhu) refrained from takfīr of those who resisted the zakah in the beginning. When Abu Bakr (radiyallahu ‘anhu) clarified their kufr to him, he agreed with him and was not asked to repent from his refraining in relation to them.

Indeed, it is authentically reported from ‘Umar (radiyallahu ‘anhu) that he said to Abu Bakr about the murtaddin,

How can you fight the people when the Messenger of Allah (sallallahu ‘alayhi wa sallam) said, “I was ordered to fight the people until they say la ilaha illallah, so whoever says that, his wealth and self is protected from me except by its right (i.e. accordance to Shari‘ah), and their account is with Allah.”

115 Agreed upon.
The ruling in this situation is that the mutawaqiq is not made takfir of initially. Rather, he is ruled with making a mistake. This ruling is based on the fact that takfir is from al-Abkam ash-Shar’iyyah (the Shari’ah rulings). The ruling of the mistaken mujtahid [here] is like the ruling of others besides him where one makes a mistake in al-Masail ash-Shar’iyyah (Shari’ah issues). If the proofs are then given and clarified to him, his tawil cut off, and he still persists in making tawaqquf after that, he becomes a kafir.

Shaykhul-Islam ibn Taymiyyah (rabimabullah) said, “Indeed, iman in the apparent widespread obligatory matters being obligatory, and [iman] in the apparent widespread prohibited matters being prohibited, is from the greatest foundations of iman and principles of the Din. The one who rejects them is a kafir by consensus. However, the mujtahid who errs with regards to some of them is not a kafir by consensus.”

And Shaykh Sulayman ibn Sahman (rabimabullah) said, “If it were decreed that a person from amongst the scholars made tawaqquf from pronouncing the kufr of a person from the ignorant blind followers of the Jahmiyyiah or the ignorant blind followers of the grave worshipers, it would be possible for us to excuse him regarding that, by saying he is excusably mistaken. We do not say that he is a kafir as he is not safe from errors, and the consensus regarding that is certain.”

116 Majmu’ al-Fatawa, v. 12, p. 496.

The fourth level: whoever refrains [from takfir] in regards to whoever falls into kufr or shirk, and the reason for refraining is a permitted shar‘i purpose. So from that is:

(a) Whoever stops [in takfir] regarding one who fell into a type of shirk or kufr that is differed upon whether the doer is expelled from the Millah, like leaving salah.

(b) From this [level] are those who refrained from those affiliated to shar‘i knowledge, with the intent to guard the scholars of the Muslimin from takfir.

The ruling of the mutawaqqif here on these two types is that he is a mujtahid who will be rewarded, bi-ithnillah. Thus if he was correct he will have two rewards, and if he was mistaken one reward.

Shaykhul-Islam ibn Taymiyyah (rahimahullah) said, “Repelling takfir from the scholars of the Muslimin, even if they were mistaken, is one of the most deserving of the Shari‘ab purposes. Even if we suppose that by refraining from takfir of the speaker - believing that he is not a kafir - was for the sake of protecting and supporting his Muslim brother, this would have been a good shar‘i purpose. And if in his ijtihad he was correct, then he will have two rewards, and if he was mistaken then for him is one reward.”

Here is an important question, and it is: in which level does the mutawaqqif of the grave worshipers fall into?

The answer: The level of the mutawaqqif in regards to the Quburiyyah (grave worshipers) differs based upon the apparentness of the shirk or belief in the occupant of the grave. No doubt, from it is what is similar to the worshipers of idols or even greater. And from it is what is less than that. And from it is what is restricted to innovations in the Din, which does not reach the level of shirk.

Shaykhul-Islam ibn Taymiyyah (rahimahullah) said,

> There are three levels in this bab (chapter/section/category): the first: one who calls on other than Allah, whether he is dead or not present, and whether he was from the prophets, righteous, or other than them, and says: “O my master so-and-so help me,” “I seek aid from you,” “I seek assistance from you,” or “aid me against my enemy,” and what is similar to this. This is ash-shirk with Allah… Worse than that is if says: “forgive me,” or “accept my repentance,” as done by a group of ignorant mushrikin…

Worse than that still, is if he was to prostrate to his grave, or offers salah towards him, seeing the salah done towards the grave as greater in virtue than salah facing the Qiblah. Some of them even say: “This is the qiblah of the selected people and the Ka’bah is the qiblah of the general people…”

Still worse than that is that they see a journey to the grave as a type of hajj, even saying that if undertaken a number of times it is equal to Hajj, with the extremists amongst them saying that visiting it once is better than Hajj to the Ka’bah multiple times, and similar to this. All of this is shirk, even if many people have fallen into some of them.

The second: one who says to the dead or absent, from the prophets or righteous: “Ask Allah for me,” “Ask your Lord for us,” or “Ask Allah for us,” similar to what is done by the Christians with regards to Maryam and others. A knowledgeable person would not doubt that this matter is not permissible and that it is from the innovations which none of the Salaf of the ummah have taken part in.

Thus it is known that it is not permissible to ask the dead for anything; it should not be sought out from him to make du'a to Allah for himself or other than that. It is not permissible to plea to him about worldly affairs or matters pertaining to the Din, even if it was permissible to complain to him during his life, because doing so when he was alive does not lead to shirk, while this does lead to shirk...

The third: that he says: “I ask You, [O Allah], by the name of so-and-so,” or “by the virtue of so-and-so,” and things similar to this nature that was mentioned by Abu Hanifah, Abu Yusuf, and others, in it not being permissible.\(^{119}\)

Chapter 5

At-Taifah al-Mumtani‘ah

In this chapter our talk, with the permission of Allah (ta'ala), will be surrounding the issues that dispute arose in regards to the hukm of at-taifah al-mumtani‘ah (resisting group/party/sect) from the rites of Islam.

And before diving into the matter of at-taifah al-mumtani‘ah, we would like to begin with a brief introduction; so we say:

Indeed, Ahlus-Sunnah wal-Jama‘ah have agreed that iman is qaww (i.e., statements) and ‘amal (i.e., actions), and from the people of knowledge more than one have related a consensus on this. Its explanation is what was outlined by Shaykhul-Islam ibn Taymiyyah (rahimahullah) when he said,

And from the fundamentals of Ahlus-Sunnah wal-Jama‘ah is that ad-Din and iman are statements and actions. The statement of the heart and the tongue, and the action of the heart, tongue, and limbs.\(^{120}\)

\(^{120}\) Al-‘Aqidah al-Wasitiyyah.
To clarify further, when Allah (ta’ala) issued a command like salah, žakah, etc., a pillar of iman in relation to the command of Allah (ta’ala) is inqiyad (compliance) to it, and that is the action of the heart. Therefore, whoever does not establish inqiyad in his heart to the command of Allah (ta’ala) is a kafir.

Shaykhul-Islam ibn Taymiyyah (rabimabullah) said, “It is known that iman is iqrar and not just merely tasdiq. Iqrar contains and comprises of the statement of the heart, which is tasdiq, as well as the action of the heart, which is inqiyad.” Then he said, “So whoever does not obtain in his heart tasdiq and inqiyad is a kafir.”

There is also a need to explain an important matter; and it is that the inqiyad of the heart to the command of Allah must manifest itself and show its traces on the limbs. So whoever resists and abstains from the action [of the limbs] then it is an indicator of his lack of iman and inqiyad, or an indicator of the weakness of his iman and inqiyad. Thus whoever resists from the action [of the limbs], then he is either a kafir or a fasiq. And this varies depending on the different forms the abstaining takes.

121 Publisher’s note: Iqrar is an act of truly affirming something is definitely true. Tasdiq is assenting and it is belief in the heart alone. The subtle difference is mentioned here by Shaykhul-Islam ibn Taymiyyah (rabimabullah).
122 Majmu’ al-Fatawa, v. 7, p. 638.
Shaykhul-Islam ibn Taymiyyah (rahimahullah) said, “The foundation of iman is in the heart, and it is the statement of the heart and its action, which is iqrar with tasdiq, love, and inqiyad. And what is in the heart must manifest and show itself on the limbs. If he does not act accordingly, then it is evidence for its absence or its weakness.”

What is meant by that is if a man was to resist and abstain from an action from the actions of Islam due to pride and arrogance, then he is a kafir due to his lack of inqiyad. This kufir is like the kufr of Iblis who resisted and abstained from making sujud to Adam (‘alayhis-salam), even though he acknowledged it was obligatory [upon him].

We return back to the issue of at-taifah al-mumtani’ah; so we say: What is at-taifah al-mumtani’ah?

The answer: It is a group that affiliates itself to Islam then abstains and resists with strength and fighting from committing to a clear and apparent law and rite of Islam, even if they affirm its obligation.

An example is if a group was to abstain from paying the zakah, or from committing to fasting [the month of Ramadan], or its likes from the rites of Islam, even if they

123 ibid, v. 7, p. 644.
affirm its obligation. Or, they do not commit to leaving the clear and apparent prohibited matters such as riba, alcohol, and żina, even if they affirm its prohibition; and we do not have the ability to bind them except by fighting. Or, they contain strength and abstain from committing to the apparent and clear rites of Islam, even if they do not fight over it.

Next we say: What is the ruling of *at-taifah al-mumtani‘ah?

The answer: The ruling of at-taifah al-mumtani‘ah according to correct opinion from the scholars is that of apostasy and the leaving of Islam. That is based upon what has passed in the introduction from what iman is, that it is qawl and ‘amal, with inqiyad to His (ta‘alā) commands being indispensable.

The evidence for that is the consensus of the companions (radiyallahu ‘anhum), which draws its proof from the fact that they labeled those who withheld the zakah as apostates.

Abu ‘Ubayd al-Qasim ibn Sallam said, “And what attests to this is the jihad of Abu Bakr as-Siddiq (radiyallahu ‘anhu) with the Muhajirin and Ansar against the Arab withholders of zakah being just like the jihad of the Messenger of Allah (sallallahu ‘alayhi wa sallam) against the people of shirk. There was no difference between them with regards to permitting their blood, enslaving their families, and taking their wealth as spoils. And they had only withheld it without rejecting it.”\textsuperscript{124}

Shaykhul-Islam ibn Taymiyyah (rahimahullah) said, “The companions agreed, and the leading scholars after them, on fighting the withholders of the zakah even though they performed the five salawat and fasted the month of Ramadan, and that they were not excused due to their misconception. And due to that they were apostates; they fought for its withholding, even though they acknowledged its obligation as commanded by Allah.”\textsuperscript{125}

And Shaykh Muhammad ibn ‘Abdil-Wahhab said after citing the words of Shaykhul-Islam, “So ponder over his clear speech that the group who resisted paying the zakah to the leader were fought and that he ruled them with kufr, apostasy from Islam, the enslavement of their children, the taking of their wealth as spoils of war, and that they acknowledged the obligation of zakah, performed the five salawat, and all other rites of Islam except for the paying of zakah. And that all that did not prevent them from being fought, nor did it prevent them from being ruled with kufr and apostasy, and that this is established from the Book, the Sunnah, and the consensus of \textsuperscript{124} Al-Iman.

\textsuperscript{125} Majmu’ al-Fatawa, v. 28, p. 519.
the companions (radiyallahu ‘anhum). And Allah knows best.”

126

The ruling of fighting at-taifah al-mumtani‘ah:

Indeed, what is proven from the Book, the Sunnah, and the consensus of the companions is that it is obligatory to fight at-taifah al-mumtani‘ah.

Allah (ta‘ala) said, “And fight them until there is no more fitnah and the Din, all of it, is for Allah.”

127

Thus if some of the Din is for Allah and some other parts are for other than Allah, it is compulsory to fight until the Din, all of it, is for Allah.

In the two books of sabih narrations (i.e., al-Bukhari and Muslim), on the authority of ibn ‘Umar (radiyallahu ‘anhum) that the Messenger of Allah (sallallahu ‘alayhi wa sallam) said,

I have been ordered to fight the people until they testify that there is nothing worthy of worship except Allah and that Muhammad is the Messenger of Allah, to establish the salah, and to give the zakah. If they do that, then their blood and wealth are protected from 126 Ad-Durar as-Saniyyah, v. 10, p. 179.

127 Al-Anfal: 49.
me except for the right of Islam, and their account is upon Allah.

And Abu Bakr (radiyallahu ‘anhu) said, “Verily, zakah is the right on the wealth. By Allah, if they refuse to give me a rope used to tie a she-camel with, that they used to give to the Messenger of Allah (sallallahu ‘alayhi wa sallam), I will fight them for that.”

And Shaykhul-Islam ibn Taymiyyah (rahimahullah) said, “The scholars have agreed that every group that resists from a clear and apparent rite from the rites of Islam, that it is obligatory to fight them until the Din, all of it, is for Allah, just as the muharibin [are fought].”

And he also said, “Thus it became known that if some people simply cling to the label of Islam without adhering to its rites and laws, then fighting them is not cancelled. Rather, fighting them is compulsory until the Din, all of it, is for Allah and until there remains no fitnah. So if some of the Din is for other than Allah, fighting becomes obligatory. Therefore, any group which refuses to implement some of the obligatory salawat; fasting; or the Hajj; or violates the blood and wealth which are sanctified; or engages in consumption of intoxicants; adultery; fornication; gambling; or marries those who are forbidden to marry; or who do not wage war against the kuffar; do not impose the jizyah on the Jews and Christians; or any other matter from the obligations and prohibitions of the Din for which no one has an excuse for denying or leaving, and which one was to disbelieve if they were to deny its obligation. Thus at-taifah al-mumtani‘ah is fought over this, even if they affirm them [being obligatory or prohibited]. And I do not know of any disagreement amongst the scholars in this regard.”

---

128 Agreed upon.
129 Al-Fatawa al-Kubra, v. 5, p. 529.

So if this is the ruling of the group if it was to refrain from observing one of the laws and rites of Islam, then what of if it was to refrain from many more than that? Rather, what of whoever declares that they will not abide by the law of Allah by replacing it with democratic laws or fabricated regulations?!

If that is settled, then some [other] issues need to be clarified:

The first issue: the disagreement that occured between the scholars of the companions, Abu Bakr and ‘Umar, regarding takfir of at-taifah al-mumtani‘ah.

Verily, the disagreement that occured at first between the companions over takfir of those who withheld the zakah is established by the text of the hadith, which has been related by al-Bukhari and Muslim from Abu Hurayrah (radiyallahu ‘anhu) who said,

When the Messenger of Allah (sallallahu ‘alayhi wa sallam) died, and Abu Bakr replaced him in his stead, and the Arabs fell into kufr, ‘Umar said to Abu Bakr, “How can you fight the people when the Messenger of Allah (sallallahu ‘alayhi wa sallam) said, ‘I was ordered to fight the people until they say la ilaha illallah, so whoever says that, his wealth and self is protected from me except by its right (i.e. accordance to Shari‘ah), and their account is with Allah.’” Abu Bakr said, “By Allah, I will fight whoever distinguishes between salah and zakah. Verily, zakah is the right on the wealth. By Allah, if they refuse to give me a rope used to tie a she-camel with, that they used to give to the Messenger of Allah (sallallahu ‘alayhi wa sallam), I will fight them for that.” So ‘Umar said, “By Allah, it was not until I saw that Allah had expanded the chest of Abu Bakr to fighting, that I knew it was the truth.”

‘Umar (radiyallahu ‘anhu) citing it was prohibited to fight them due to them saying ‘la ilaha illallah’ is a clear proof that he did not view them as disbelievers.
From those who made mention of this dispute between the companions was Imam ibn Qudamah in his book Al-Mughni. He said after mentioning the two narrations in regards to takfīr of those who withheld the zakah, “It is evident based on the first narration that ‘Umar and others from the companions refused to fight in the beginning, and if they had believed that they were disbelievers, then they would not have held back.”

The second issue: the mention of the disagreement which occurred between the scholars on this matter.

The disagreement between the scholars of Ahlus-Sunnah with regards to the ruling of kufr of at-taifah al-mumtani‘ah is based on the disagreement of the companions (radiyallahu ‘anhum). Ash-Shafi‘i (rahimahullah) inclined towards not making takfīr of those who withheld the zakah and went on to say that the affiliating them with riddah was from the standpoint of linguistics and not upon a shar‘i meaning. So he viewed that the companions disputed with regards to fighting but agreed on not making takfīr of them. He considered those who refused to give a right to the leader as having a tawil.

Imam ash-Shafi‘i (rahimahullah) said,
The people of riddah after the Messenger of Allah (sallallahu ‘alayhi wa sallam) are of two types: from them are those who were tempted after Islam, such as Tulayhah, Musaylamah, al-‘Ansi, and their companions. And from them are those who clung to Islam but refused to give charity. If someone asks: “What is the evidence for that while the people refer to them as the people of riddah?” Then this [is the use of] the Arabic language. Riddah comes from irtidad from what they had been upon to kufr, and [also] irtidad by preventing its haqq. So whoever returns back from something, it is permissible to say that he committed riddah from this or that.\(^\text{131}\)

Imam Ahmad also leaned towards that in one narration, as al-Athram cited from him about the one who abandons the fast of Ramadan, by asking, “Is he like one who leaves the salah?” He replied, “Salah is more firmly established, unlike the others.” He was then asked, “And the one who leaves [paying] the zakah?” He replied, “It has come from ‘Abdullah [ibn Mas‘ud] that ‘one who leaves [paying] the zakah is not a Muslim.’ And Abu Bakr fought over it, and the hadith is regarding the salah.\(^\text{132}\)

\(^{131}\) Al-Umm, v. 4, p. 227.

\(^{132}\) Al-Ahkam as-Sultaniyyah.
Al-Qadi Abu Ya’la said,

What is apparent in this is that he narrated the statement of ‘Abdullah [ibn Mas‘ud] and the action of Abu Bakr, but did not assert it due to him saying, “the hadith is regarding the salah.” Meaning, the reported hadith that contained [the mention] of kufr is found in regards to the salah. And the statement of the Prophet (sallallahu ‘alayhi wa sallam) is, “Between the slave and kufr is leaving the salah. So whoever leaves the salah, then he has disbelieved.” And also because zakah is the right of the wealth, and one does not disbelieve for not giving it. And fighting for it is like a kafarah (expiation) and like the rights of the people.\(^\text{133}\)

Shaykhul-Islam ibn Taymiyyah (rabimabullaah) said, “The fuqaha split into two opinions thereafter in relation to the kufr of whoever refuses to give it and fights the leader over it while affirming its obligation. Both [opinions] are narrated from Ahmad, just as the two narrations from him regarding takfîr of the Khawarij.”\(^\text{134}\)

\(^{133}\) Al-Masail war-Risalah, v. 2, p. 50.

\(^{134}\) Majmu’ al-Fatawa, v. 35, p. 15.
The third issue: is the one who disagrees in the \textit{kufr} of \textit{at-taifah al-mumtani‘ah} an innovator or a Sunni?

We say: whoever said that \textit{at-taifah al-mumtani‘ah} does not disbelieve based on his saying that \textit{iman} is a statement but not actions, then he is a Murji. As for whoever says that \textit{iman} is statements and actions, then refrains from declaring the \textit{kufr} of \textit{at-taifah al-mumtani‘ah}, he is not an innovator but a \textit{mujtahid} who is mistaken. Imam ash-Shafi‘i falls under this, for he affirmed that \textit{iman} is statements and actions just as the generality of the leading scholars of Ahlus-Sunnah wal-Jama‘ah did.

Imam ash-Shafi‘i (\textit{rahimahullah}) said, “It was by the consensus of the \textit{Sahabah} and those who followed after them, from those whom we have knowledge of, that \textit{iman} is statements, actions, and intention. And none of these three suffices without the others.”

This matter resembles the difference of opinion in regards to the \textit{kufr} of the one who leaves the \textit{salah}. Thus whoever from the scholars favored not to declare the \textit{kufr} of the abandoner of \textit{salah} while saying that \textit{iman} is statements and actions, then he is Sunni and not an innovator. Concerning one who does not make \textit{takfīr} of the one who leaves the \textit{salah} or views one that is killed after he is called to it is a Muslim, then he has fallen into the misconception that the Murjiah and Jahmiyyah fell into regarding the name of iman and based his view of not making takfīr upon that [misconception].

Shaykhul-Islam ibn Taymiyyah (rahimahullah) said, “This point deserves to be reflected over. So whoever knows that what is apparent is connected to what is hidden, the misconception in this issue would be removed from him. He would come to know that whoever from the fuqaha said that if one affirms the obligation [of salah] and refrains from its performance - that he is not killed or killed while still a Muslim - then he fell into the misconception that the Murjiah and the Jahmiyyah fell into. Which is the same one that those who considered whoever has the willful determination and complete ability does not imply anything from action [fell into]. Therefore, those who abstained from killing this one, from the fuqaha, based their saying on this issue of iman, in that actions are not from it.”

Let us take an example of this:

And it what is related from ibn Shihab az-Zuhri (rahimahullah). In Ta’dhim Qadr as-Salah, al-Marwazi narrates from ibn Shihab az-Zuhri that he was asked about a man who leaves the salah, so he said, “If he left it due to him innovating a din besides the Din of Islam, he is to be killed. And if he does it due to him being a fasiq, he is to be beaten and imprisoned.”

Thus it is clear that ibn Shihab does not view the one who leaves the salah as having disbelieved.

It is narrated by al-Lalakai from Ma’qal ibn ‘Ubaydillah al-‘Absi, that he said to Nafi’, the slave of ibn ‘Umar,

They say: “We acknowledge that salah is compulsory, but we do not perform it; that alcohol is prohibited, but we drink it; that marrying the mothers is prohibited, but we want to.” So he removed his hand from mine and said, “Whoever does that is a kafir.”

Ma’qal [further] said,

Later, I met with az-Zuhri and informed him of what they say, and he said, “Subhan Allah, have the people started arguing about that? The Messenger of Allah (sallallahu ‘alayhi wa sallam) said, ‘The adulterer is not a believer at the moment when he is committing adultery, and the drinker of wine is not a believer at the moment when he is drinking wine.’” 137
So look at his statement in relation to not making takfir of the one who abandons salah, while he rebukes the Murjiah who take actions outside of the name of iman. This is what makes us not accuse the likes of Imam az-Zuhri with irja simply because he does not view the one who leaves the salah as having disbelieved. Reflect over this matter greatly, and do not be deceived by the multitude of those who seek sedition and the speech of the extremists.

Finally, an important clarification needs to be noted:

It is that the vast majority of those whom we fight today of the sects of kufr and apostasy do not fit into the dispute which occurred between the people of knowledge in regards to at-tawāif (pl. of at-taifah) al-mumtani‘ah. Thus the armies of the tawāghit states, their police, and their agents are kufr by consensus. They are closer in resemblance to the followers of Musaylamah and al-Aswad [al-‘Ansi] than to those who refrained from [paying] the zakah. Accordingly, the soldiers of the taghut and everyone who fights for his sake is a kafir as stated by the text of the Quran, as He (ta‘ala) said, “Those who believe fight for the sake of Allah, and those who disbelieve fight for the sake of the taghut. So fight against the allies of Shaytan. Indeed, the plot of Shaytan is weak.”138

138 An-Nisa: 76.
Whoever allies with the taghut upon ruling by other than what Allah revealed and wages war against the allies of Allah, then he is a kafir like him (i.e., the taghut). Because whoever allies with the kuffar is from them, due to His (ta'ala) statement, “And whoever is an ally to them among you - then, indeed, he is [one] of them. Indeed, Allah guides not the wrongdoing people.”\(^{139}\)

And we have previously come across that bara'ah from the mushrikin and allying with the muwahhidin is from asl ad-Din in wherein there is no excuse of ignorance, nor interpretation, for anyone with relation to it. This is in general a point of consensus, with all praise belonging to Allah (ta'ala).
Chapter 6

Darul-Kufr and Hijrah

In this chapter we will discuss, with the permission of Allah (ta'ala), two matters:

The first: The diyar (pl. of dar, lit. lands) and its rulings.

The second: Hijrah and its rulings.

We will deal with the following issues relating to the diyar:

Firstly: The meaning of dar and the categorization of the world into two types of lands.

Secondly: The definition of darul-Islam and darul-kufr.

Thirdly: The reason for ruling a land with Islam or kufr.

Fourthly: The categories of darul-kufr.

And we will discuss the following issues regarding the matter of hijrah:
Firstly: The ruling of hijrah.

Secondly: The ruling on abandoning hijrah.

Thirdly: The condition of those residing in darul-kufr.

We now commence with the discussion surrounding the rulings relating to the diyar.

The first issue from the first matter:

The meaning of dar, the categorization of the world into two types of lands, and the legal definition of dar.

The scholars from the Salaf and those who came after have agreed upon the categorization of the world into two types of lands: darul-Islam and darul-kufr. This categorization is founded based upon the Book of Allah and the Sunnah of the Messenger of Allah (sallallahu 'alayhi wa sallam).

From the Book of Allah is His (ta‘ala) saying, “And those who, before them, had the dar and had adopted iman love those who emigrate…”140

140 Surah al-Anfal: 9.
Imam ibn Kathir (rahimahullah) said, “Meaning, those who resided in darul-Hijrah, before the Muhajirin and who believed before many of them.”

And He (ta‘ala) said, “Indeed, those whom the angels take [in death] while wronging themselves - [the angels] will say, ‘In what [condition] were you?’ They will say, ‘We were oppressed in the land.’ The angels will say, ‘Was not the earth of Allah spacious [enough] for you to emigrate therein?’ For those, their refuge is Hell - and evil it is as a destination.”

Hijrah, when generally made mention of in the Book and the Sunnah, refers to re-locating one’s place of residence from darul-kufr to darul-Islam.

As for the Sunnah, then the categorization of the diyar has come in several ahadith. From it is that which has come in the marfu’ hadith narrated by Muslim from Buraydah ibn al-Hasib (radiyallahu ‘anhu),

Then call them towards Islam, if they respond positively then accept it from them and hold yourself from [harming] them. And then call them to migrate from their lands to the dar of the Muhajirin. And inform them if they do that, then for them will be 141 Surah an-Nisa: 97.

---

what is for the Muhajirin and upon them is what is upon the Muhajirin.

And an-Nasai (rahimahullah) narrated, with a sabih isnad, from Jabir ibn Zayd (radiyallahu ‘anhu) who said,

Ibn ‘Abbas (radiyallahu ‘anhuma) said, ‘The Messenger of Allah (sallallahu ‘alayhi wa sallam), Abu Bakr, and ‘Umar were from the Muhajirin, as they hajaru (abandoned) the mushrikin, and some of the Ansar were munajirin, as Madinah was a dar of shirk, then they came to the Messenger of Allah (sallallahu ‘alayhi wa sallam) during the night of al-‘Aqabah.

The second issue from the matter of diyar.

The definition of darul-Islam and darul-kufr.

Darul-Islam: it is every land or place in which the laws of Islam are supreme, and dominance, strength, and decision making is with the Muslimin, even if the majority of those residing in it are disbelievers.

As for darul-kufr: it is every land or place in which the laws of kufr are supreme, and dominance, strength, and decision making is with the disbelievers, even if the majority of those residing in it are Muslimin.

Imam ibnul-Qayyim (rahimahullah) said, “Darul-Islam is that where the Muslimin are settled and the laws of Islam are regulated therein. And if the laws of Islam are not enforced, then it is not darul-Islam, even if it borders it. This is at-Taif, very close to Makkah, and it did not become darul-Islam with the opening of Makkah, similarly the coast.”

And Ibn Muflih (rahimahullah) said, “A section in verifying darul-Islam and darul-harb: every land which the rulings of the Muslimin are predominant, then it is darul-Islam. And if the rulings of the kuffar are predominant, then it is darul-kufr; and there is no other dar except these two.”

The third issue:

The reason behind ruling a land with Islam or kufr.

By examining the speech of the ‘ulama it becomes clear that they give two reasons for ruling upon a dar:

---

142 Ahkam Ahl adh-Dhimmah, v. 2, p. 728.
1. Strength and dominance.

2. The type of laws implemented therein.

Ibn Hazm (rahimahullahu) said,

The statement of the Messenger of Allah (sallallahu ‘alayhi wa sallam), “I am free from every Muslim who lives amongst the mushrikin,” makes it clear what we have stated, and that he (‘alayhis-salami) meant with that darul-barb. Otherwise, he (‘alayhis-salami) had his representatives in Khaybar, while they were all Jews. As well, if the people of adh-dhimmah (i.e., those who pay the jizyah) are in their cities where no one mixes with them, then the one who resides amongst them for the purpose of ruling over them or for trade is not a kafir nor doing any wrong. Rather, he is a good Muslim. And their dar is a dar of Islam and not a dar of shirk, because the dar is only attributed to who has control over it, the one ruling it, and the one to whom it belongs to.\(^\text{144}\)

Abu Yusuf and Muhammad ibn al-Hasan (rahimahumallahu ta‘ala) both said, “If the rulings of shirk are prevalent therein, then their dar has become darul-barb, because a place is either attributed to us or them according to strength and dominance. Therefore, every area in which the ruling of \textit{shirk} prevails, then the strength in that area is for the \textit{mushrikin} and thus will be considered \textit{darul-barb}. And every area in which the ruling of Islam is prevalent, then the strength is for \textit{Muslimin}.”

And ash-Shawkani (\textit{rahimahullah}) said,

Consideration with regards to a \textit{dar} is given to whose word is most manifest. Thus if the commands and prohibitions are for the people of Islam, and the \textit{kuffar} do not have the ability to manifest their \textit{kufr} except for what is authorized by the people of Islam, then this is \textit{darul-Islam}. It is not harmed by manifestations of \textit{kufr} due to the fact that it was not done out of the strength of the kuffar nor their say, as is witnessed in relation to the people of \textit{adh-dhimmah} from the Jews, Christians, and others with covenants of security residing in the Islamic cities. And if the situation was the opposite, then the \textit{dar} would be opposite.\textsuperscript{146}

\textsuperscript{145} \textit{Al-Mabsut}, v. 10, p. 114.
\textsuperscript{146} \textit{As-Sayl al-Jarrar}, v. 4, p. 575-576.
The fourth issue:

The categories of darul-kufr.

The diyar of kufr are divided into two types with regards to the kufr being old or recent:

The first type: Darul-kufr al-asli: it is that which was never darul-Islam.

The second type: Darul-kufr at-tari: it is that which was once darul-Islam, then the kuffar took control of it, or its rulers therein committed apostasy, or its people committed apostasy and the rulings of kufr began to be regulated.

Therefore, the description of the land does not necessitate that it is permanently fixed, rather, its description falls under those matters which are subject to change and review. That carries the meaning that a land can change from one description to another. Thus a land can be considered darul-kufr, then it could be changed into darul-Islam, and it could be considered darul-Islam then turn into darul-kufr.

Shaykhul-Islam ibn Taymiyyah (rahimahullah) said, “A land being darul-kufr or darul-Islam or darul-iman, a land of peace or a land of war; a land of obedience or a land of disobedience; a land of the believers or a land of the rebellious; are descriptions subject to review and not set in stone. They may move from one description to another like how a man can go from \textit{kufr} to \textit{iman} and knowledge, likewise the opposite.”\textsuperscript{147}

\textbf{And here is an important matter to note:}

It does not necessitate, when ruling upon a \textit{dar} that it is \textit{darul-kufr}, whether \textit{asli} or \textit{tari}, that whoever resides in it from the \textit{Muslimin} is a \textit{kafir}. No, that is a statement of the extremists and a path from the pathways of the Khawarij.

Al-Ash‘ari (\textit{rahimahullah}) mentioned this speech from one of the sects of the Khawarij and said, “The Azariqah claimed that whoever lives in \textit{darul-kufr} is a \textit{kafir}, he has no option but to leave.”\textsuperscript{148}

And he made mention with regards to the Khawarij Bayhasiyyah and ‘Awfiyyah that they said, “If the leader disbelieves, the inhabitants disbelieve, whether they were present or not.”\textsuperscript{149}

That is because the foundation is that the Muslim remains upon his \textit{islam} in every land and under every sky as long as he does not commit a nullifier from the nullifiers of Islam. And what is established with certainty is not removed by doubt.

\textsuperscript{147} Majmu’ al-Fatawa, v. 27, p. 45.
\textsuperscript{148} Maqalat al-Islamiyyin, v. 1, p. 88.
\textsuperscript{149} ibid, v. 1, p. 103.

Imam ash-Shawkani (rahimahullah) said, “Know, that dealing with the discussion of darul-Islam and darul-kafir is of very little benefit (meaning, the ruling of the inhabitants therein), due to what we had previously said in regards to darul-barb and that the wealth and blood of the belligerent kafir is permissible in every situation as long as he does not have a covenant from the Muslimin and that the blood and wealth of the Muslim is protected due to the protection of Islam, whether in darul-barb or other than it.”

The tahqiq\textsuperscript{151} is to say:

The ruling of the residents in darul-kafir at-tari, or the saying that the asl (foundational principle) of them is Islam or kafir, or the ruling of someone whose condition is unknown, differs depending on the different circumstances. All of it is fiqhi rulings, which return to the verdicts of the ‘ulama. Because of that, you will find their statements differ in accordance to the different situations in regards to the residents in these lands.

\textsuperscript{150} As-Sayl al-Jarrar, v. 1, p. 976.

\textsuperscript{151} Publisher’s note: Tahqiq means verification, meaning, a scholarly verification of something; and what is intended here is that after review and verification, looking into the matter it is to say, or what is established is to say…
We will relate to you some examples of that:

The first example: The fatwa of Shaykhul-Islam (rahimahullah) regarding the people of Mardin.

It was darul-Islam, then the Tatar took control over it and implemented the rulings of kufr. So he (rahimahullah) was asked about the land of Mardin, if it was a land of war or a land of peace; is it obligatory upon the Muslim residing in it to perform hijrah or not; and if hijrah is obligatory upon him yet he does not perform it but instead aids the enemies of the Muslimin with himself or his wealth, is a sinner for that; or is the one who accuses him of nifaq and curses him a sinner?

He replied:

All praise belongs to Allah. The blood of the Muslimin and their wealth are forbidden whether in Mardin or other than it. And supporting those who are outside the Shari'ah of Islam is forbidden whether they are the people of Mardin or others besides them. The one who lives therein, if he is unable to establish his din, then hijrah is compulsory upon him, otherwise it would be recommended and not obligatory.

The aiding of the enemies of the Muslimin with their persons or wealth is forbidden. They must refrain from that by whatever means possible, by avoiding them, or by using wordings that carry different possible meanings, or by deceiving them. If that is not possible except by hijrah, then it becomes incumbent upon them. It is not permissible to curse them and accuse them with nifaq in general. Rather, cursing and the accusation of nifaq are descriptions mentioned in the Book and the Sunnah, and some of the people of Mardin and other than them enter into that.

As for it being a land of war or peace, then it is composite with both meanings in it. It is not at the status of darus-silm in which the laws of Islam are implemented and in which its soldiers are Muslimin, and it is not at the status of darul-barb in which its people are kuffar. Instead, it is a third type where the Muslim therein is treated as he rightfully deserves, and the one outside the Shari‘ah of Islam is fought as he rightfully deserves.¹⁵²

Notice how he ruled the residents therein that it is not permissible to curse them or accuse them with nifaq in general, and that they are not kuffar like the people of darul-barb, even though he judged the soldiers as not being Muslimin. All of that was regards to Mardin, when it was dar kufr tari.

The second example: The fatwa of Hamad ibn ‘Atiq (rahimahullah) regarding the people of al-Ahsa.

He asserted:

Whoever has participated in looking into what the verifying scholars have fixated will observe that if shirk becomes prevalent in the land, the prohibited matters are committed openly, and the features of the Din are left unattended, then it becomes darul-kufr. The wealth of its people are taken as spoils and their blood is permissible to shed. The people in this particular land have increased in all that by insulting Him and His Din and have laid down laws implementing them upon the people that oppose the Book of Allah and the Sunnah of His prophet. And you know that just one of these is sufficient to expel the one who comes with it from Islam. This and we say that there could be those from whom are not ruled with kufr internally from the weak and oppressed etc.

As for what is apparent, then the matter - and all praise belongs to Allah - is clear. Sufficient for you is the action of the Prophet (sallallahu 'alayhi wa sallam) in relation to Makkah, even though in it were the weak and oppressed. Likewise, what his companions did with regards to many of those who turned back from Islam, in permitting their blood and wealth and taking them as slaves. Everyone with a sound mind and knowledge will know that what these people have fallen into from kufr and riddah is worse, more obscene, and greater than what those had done.

Thus return the focus to the texts of the Book, the Sunnah, and the sirah of the Messenger (sallallahu ‘alayhi wa sallam) and his companions. You will find it pure white in which no one deviates from it except that he is destroyed. Look into what the scholars have mentioned regarding this, and ask Allah for the guidance of the heart and to remove any misconception. I did not think that this would come from someone like you. Do not let the ignorant and the people of misconceptions deceive you.\textsuperscript{153}

So look to how he ruled upon the people of this land with kufr based upon the apparent. And that is when the descriptions therein befit this ruling, from the spread and prevalence of kufr, and their inclining towards it and declaring it, and other than that. He did not apply his ruling upon them based merely on their land being darul-kufr; so pay attention to that.

In closing, it is necessary to make a distinction between the issue of ruling upon a land and the issue of ruling upon the inhabitants. Therefore, the ruling of a dar is in accordance to the laws implemented in it, and the ruling of the inhabitants is by observing their condition. And Allah is the One whom assistance is sought.

This ends the first matter regarding the diyar, by the tawfiq of Allah.

We now begin the discussion surrounding the second matter, and it is the issue of hijrah.

The shar'i definition of hijrah: it is to leave darul-kufr to darul-Islam for the sake of Allah. Hijrah can also be intended in general to mean leaving a land of disobedience to a land of obedience, or from a land of bid'ah to a land of Sunnah.

The first issue:

The ruling of hijrah.

Ibn Qasim (rahimahullah) said in Hashiyah ‘ala al-Usul ath-Thalathah, “[Hijrah] is known to be established from the Book, the Sunnah, and ijma. The one who leaves it is under the threat of punishment. A number of scholars have narrated a consensus on the obligation of hijrah from the lands of shirk to the lands of Islam.”

The second issue:

The ruling on leaving hijrah.

The Muslim does not disbelieve for abandoning hijrah alone, due to His (ta'ala) saying, “And as to those who believed but did not emigrate, you owe no duty of protection to them until they emigrate, but if they seek your help in the Din, it is your duty to help them except against a people with whom you have a treaty of mutual alliance, and Allah is the All-Seer of what you do.”

Thus He combined between the descriptions of iman and abandoning hijrah from the land of war.

Abu Bakr ibnul-‘Arabi (rahimahullah) said, “His (ta'ala) statement, ‘but if they seek your help in the Din, it is your duty to help them,’ means if they call you from a land of war to assist them in a call to arms or by wealth to alleviate them, then aid them as that is compulsory upon you, except with a people whom who have a covenant with you. If that is the case, then refrain from fighting them until the covenant either ends, or it is dismissed.”

It is also not permissible for a Muslim to reside in darul-kufr if he is not able to establish and manifest his din, due to His (ta’ala) saying, “Indeed, those whom the angels take [in death] while wronging themselves - [the angels] will say, ‘In what [condition] were you?’ They will say, ‘We were oppressed in the land.’ The angels will say, ‘Was not the earth of Allah spacious [enough] for you to emigrate therein?’ For those, their refuge is Hell - and evil it is as a destination.”

Ibn Kathir (rahimahullah) said, “The noble ayah is broad in scope for everyone who resides amongst the mushrikin, while able to perform hijrah and unable to establish his din. Such a person is committing injustice against himself and falling into the haram by consensus.”

Manifesting the Din is not just being able to perform the salawat and its like. What is intended by manifesting the Din is displaying enmity and animosity to the kuffar and mushrikin, due to His (ta’ala) saying, “Indeed, there has been an excellent example for you in Ibrahim and those with him, when they said to their people: ‘Verily, we are free from you and whatever you worship besides Allah, we have rejected you,

156 An-Nisa: 97.
and there has appeared between us and you, hostility and hatred forever, until you believe in Allah Alone.”\textsuperscript{157}

As for the one who leaves off \textit{hijrah} while with him is the \textit{asl} of animosity - meaning, animosity is present and found [within him] - however, he does not show it - meaning, he does not make it apparent - then he is sinful but not a \textit{kafir}.

Shaykh ‘Abdul-Latif (rahimahullah) was asked about whoever is under the authority of the \textit{mushrikin} and knows \textit{tawhid} and acts upon it, however he does not have animosity towards them nor departs from their lands. He replied,\textsuperscript{158}

This question comes due to a lack of reflection on the issue and on the intended meaning of \textit{tawhid} and acting according to it. Because one can not imagine someone who knows \textit{tawhid} and acts on it who does not despise the \textit{mushrikin}. Whoever does not hate them then it can not be said that he knows \textit{tawhid} and acts according to it. Thus the question is contradictory. The good question is the key to knowledge, and I think what you meant to ask was: whoever does not manifest his animosity and does not separate from them.

\textsuperscript{158} \textit{Ad-Durar as-Saniyyah}, v. 8, p. 359.
The issue of manifesting animosity differs from the issue of having the presence of animosity [in the heart]. For the first, there is an excuse for the one who is weak or in fear due to His (ta'ala) saying, “except if you fear a danger from them.” The second, there is no alternative, because it enters into kufr bit-taghut; there is a direct connection between it and between loving Allah and His messenger that a believer can not do without.

Thus whoever disobeys Allah by abandoning the manifestation of animosity, then he is disobedient to Allah. If the asl of animosity is in his heart, he will have the ruling of his likes from the disobedient. If he adds to that the leaving of hijrah, then he has a share from His (ta‘ala) statement, “Indeed, those whom the angels take [in death] while wronging themselves.” However, he does not disbelieve, as the ayah is a threat and not takfīr.

As for the second one in whose heart there is nothing from animosity, then the statement of the questioner befits him in that he does not hate the mushrikin. Thus this is an enormous matter and a grave sin. And what good remains with the absence of enmity of the mushrikin?! The fear of losing dwellings and date palms is no excuse to leave hijrah. He (ta‘ala) said, “O My slaves who believe! Certainly, spacious is My earth. Therefore worship Me [alone].”\(^{159}\)

As for whoever abandons \textit{hijrah} from \textit{darul-kufr} out of allegiance and loyalty to the \textit{kuffar} from its people or as a means to assist them against the \textit{Muslimin}, then he is a \textit{kafir} like them.

He (\textit{ta'ala}) said, “Oh you who believe, do not take your fathers or your brothers as allies if they prefer \textit{kufr} over \textit{iman}. And whoever of you allies with them, then, indeed, such are the \textit{dhalimun.”\(^{160}\)

Al-Qurtubi (\textit{rabimahullah}) said, “What is apparent from this \textit{ayah} is that it is directed to all of the believers, and the ruling of cutting off relations between the believers and the disbelievers will remain until the Day of Judgment. A group [of scholars] narrated in regards to this \textit{ayah} that it was revealed in order to encourage \textit{hijrah} and the leaving of the lands of \textit{kufr}. The talk here is directed to the believers who were in Makkah and other Arab lands, telling them not to ally with their fathers and brothers, lest they become tagged along with the residents of the lands of \textit{kufr}.”

\(^{159}\) Al-‘Ankabut: 56.
\(^{160}\) At-Tawbah: 23.
Ibn Hazm (rahimahullah) said, “Then it is correct based upon that to say whoever chooses to live in darul-kufr wal-harb voluntarily and engages in war against the Muslimin that are near him that he is an apostate due to that action. All the rulings of the murtadd are applicable to him, from the obligation of killing him when the ability arises, his wealth being permissible to take, his marriage being void, and other than that, as the Messenger (sallallahu ‘alayhi wa sallam) did not disassociate himself from a Muslim.”\(^{161}\)

And ibn Taymiyyah (rahimahullah), commenting on the statement of ‘Abdullah ibn ‘Umar (radiyallahu ‘anhumā), “Whoever establishes himself in their lands, celebrates their Nawruz (i.e., the Persian New Year’s Day) and their festivals, and imitates them until he dies will be resurrected with them,” said,

This implies that he considered him a kafir due to his participation in all these matters with them, or he considered them from the major sins that are reasons for going to the Fire. Even though the former is what is apparent from his words, participating in some of that is a sin.\(^{162}\)

\(^{161}\) Al-Muhalla, v. 6, p. 47.
\(^{162}\) Iqtida as-Sirat al-Mustaqim, v. 1, p. 515.
The third issue:

The various conditions in regards to the inhabitants of darul-kufr.

Ibn Hazm (rahimahullah) said,

As for whoever fled to the lands of barb due to oppression he was in fear of and did not fight against the Muslimin, nor aid the disbelievers against them, and he can not find anyone from the Muslimin to shelter and protect him, then in this case there is nothing upon him because he is forced and compelled. We previously mentioned that az-Zuhri, Muhammad ibn Muslim ibn Shihab, was determined to depart towards the lands of the Romans if Hisham ibn ‘Abdil-Malik died because Walid ibn Yazid vowed to spill his blood if he was to get ahold of him, and he was to be the wali after Hisham. Therefore, whoever’s situation resembles this, then he is excused.

Similar to that is the one who lives in the lands of Hind, Sindh, China, Turk, Sudan, and the Romans, from amongst the Muslimin. Thus if he is not able to leave from there due to the burden on his back, or lack of wealth, or weakness of body, or because he is prevented from a way out, then he is excused.

Verily, if he wages war against the Muslimin by assisting the kuffar with any service or writing, then he is a kafir.

And if he only resides there for some worldly matter, similar to a dhimmi for them, and he is able to catch up with the Muslimin and their land, then he is not far from kufr, and we do not see an excuse for him. We ask Allah for well-being.

That is unlike one who lives under the authority of the people of kufr from the extremists and from those who are similar to them, because in the land of Misr, Qayrawan, and other than them, Islam there is what is apparent and prevalent. Their rulers are also like that as they do not show bara'ah from Islam, rather, they claim to be a part of it, even if in reality their rulers are kuffar.

As for whoever dwells in the land of the Qaramitah, then he is a kafir without any doubt, as they announce their kufr and abandonment of Islam, and we seek refuge with Allah from that.
As for the one who resides in a land in which some desires are manifest that lead to kufr, then he is not a kafir, as the name of Islam is manifest there in every way; from tawhid, acceptance of the Message of Muhammad (sallallahu ‘alayhi wa sallam), the disavowal from every religion and way of life other than Islam, the establishment of the salah, the fasting of Ramadan, and every law and regulation that are [included] in Islam and iman. And all praise belongs to Allah, the Lord of creation.\(^\text{163}\)

May the salah of Allah be upon our prophet Muhammad, his family, and his companions ajma‘in.
